Fierce Battle In Assembly For Council Vacancy

NEW YORK (CP)—The United Nations' General Assembly took two more ballots today in a futile effort to break the deadlock in the contest between the Ukraine and India for the Security Council seat being vacated by Poland Dec. 31.

When the two ballots left the position virtually unchanged from the original results of the seventh ballot late Tuesday, President Oswaldo Aranha abruptly suspended voting and called for election of six members to impending vacancies on the Economic and Social Council.

In the first ballot today the Ukraine got 31 votes, India 23, an overnight loss for the Ukraine of two votes. A two-thirds majority of those voting is necessary to win—36 in this ballot.

On the second ballot today each picked up one vote when the total of voters increased to 56, all but one of the membership.

Madame Pandit, head of the Indian delegation, said India had entered the contest and would remain in because of the principle of regional representation in the council.

Australia's withdrawal, she said, left the Indian Ocean and Asia generally without representation.

Mrs. Pandit insisted India was not trying to keep any group out of the council. Canada Tuesday was voted into the British Commonwealth seat now occupied by Australia. Argentina was elected to succeed Brazil in the other of the three places to be vacated Dec. 31.

NO BARTER OF VOTES

"We shall not be a party to barter of votes," Mrs. Pandit told the assembly.

Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky retorted that the British Commonwealth would be represented by Canada, but the Slav states would not be represented unless the Ukraine was elected to sit beside the Soviet Union delegate in the council.

President Aranha tried to stop Vishinsky. The chief Soviet delegate protested that the gavel was sounded only when he tried to speak and that the same principles should apply to all delegates.

The assembly then moved on to the election of members of the Economic and Social Council, leaving the dispute over the Security Council seat undecided.

FOUR QUICKLY ELECTED—Four of the six prospective vacancies on the 18-power Economic and Social Council were filled on the first ballot, which showed: Brazil 55, Britain 49, Russia 45 and Denmark 45. Thirty-eight votes were required for election to the three-year terms. Russia, Britain and Denmark are thus re-elected present members of this council and Brazil will be a new member as of Jan. 1. Canada at present is a member, with another year to run.

The five other top contestants were into a second ballot run-off for the two remaining seats.

These countries and their first ballot votes were:

Poland 29, Australia 27, Iran 26, Greece 13 and India 13. India now is a member of the Economic and Social Council.

Australia won with 38 votes on the second ballot, but it required two more ballots to settle the issue between Poland and Iran, when the former squeezed through with 39 votes and the assembly adjourned for lunch.

Tuesday's long session of balloting, after Canada and Argentina had won two of the three vacancies on the first ballot, left the Ukraine with 33 and India with 29 deadlocked with neither having the necessary two-thirds majority (38 votes) to win.

Soviet delegate Vishinsky twice violated the rule against canvassing by breaking into impassioned protests at the denial of what he claimed was the right to have a Slav state succeed Poland.

WRITTEN PROTEST

He was reprimanded by President Oswaldo Aranha and after adjournment Mme. V. L. Pandit, Indian delegate and ambassador from her country to Moscow, submitted a written protest at Vishinsky's action.

"I wish to record the emphatic protest of the Indian delegation to the manner in which one of the participating parties has been permitted to make a last-minute appeal for votes," Mme. Pandit wrote. "It was a most unparalleled procedure and unworthy of a world parliament."

delegate George Wilkinson said he was not defending the act, but that some of its objectionable features had been brought on by "the irresponsible actions of some trade unions that had to be curbed."

George Bengough, Vancouver Carpenters' Union delegate, said Bill 39 was not what it should be, but his union had been able to operate under it.

SAYS CONTROLS NEEDED—Birt Showler, B.C. vice-president of the Congress, said the act was not perfect, but labor in his province had "grown up under its aid." Some controls were needed.

A Canadian Seaman's Union man from Vancouver—delegate Thompson—declared it was felt the bill was regarded in some quarters as a move to "smash labor unions."

Bruce Magnusson, Timmins, Ont., secretary of the Ontario Federation of Labor, said if labor was dissatisfied with legislation, it should elect its own politicians and organize its own labor political movement.

Train Crash Kills 25

BATAVIA (AP)—Antara news agency reported today from Jogjakarta that 25 Indonesians were killed and 70 severely injured Tuesday when four crowded railway cars broke loose from a train and plunged down a steep hill in central Java.

To Keep Controls On Sugar Prices

OTTAWA (CP)—Prices Board officials said today they wished to state "emphatically" that the removal of price ceilings on sugar is not even being considered. The current ceiling price is about 9½ cents a pound.

"It seems clear that sugar prices are likely to remain at their present level for some considerable time," said the officials.

Reject Russian Claims In Austria

VIENNA (CP)—An American spokesman said today France, Britain and the United States had rejected a Russian proposal which might hide "monumental and fantastic claims against Austria."

The spokesman said the Russians proposed in the continuing four-power commission talks on the Austrian treaty that Austria pay for "all supplies and services delivered to Austria by any of the allied or associated powers between May 8, 1945, and the coming into force of the treaty."

Take Strike Vote

VANCOUVER (CP)—Employees of Gainers Ltd., one of two independent packing houses supplying Vancouver since the start of the strike in the meat packing industry, Sept. 10, today voted to go off the job. The move followed company rejection of the union's wage demands, and plant officials said they expected to close sometime during next week-end.

R.C.A.F. To Stay At Pat Bay Development Work Planned

OTTAWA (Special)—R. W. Mayhew, M.P. for Victoria and parliamentary assistant to the Minister of Finance, announced here today that the Patricia Bay airport, near Victoria, would be maintained as an R.C.A.F. base.

Mr. Mayhew's announcement set at rest rumors which have circulated on the Pacific coast that Patricia Bay, which played a big part in the last war effort, would be closed as an R.C.A.F. operational centre and turned over to commercial air travel.

Mr. Mayhew discussed the rumors with Hon. Brooke Claxton, Minister of Defence, on his return from Australia and was advised that the government had no intention of making Pat Bay a commercial field and that the R.C.A.F. would remain there.

It is intimated here that a large development program is to be undertaken at Pat Bay in the near future. Officials of the R.C.A.F. and Trans-Canada Airlines have been discussing the matter for some time.

One of the questions under consideration is the roads between Victoria and Pat Bay. Progress is being made on the route of a new express highway. It is expected it will follow a roadbed formerly used by one of the railroads.

Early this year T.C.A. purchased farmlands on the east side of the East Saanich road and in order to get full use of this property the road will have to be closed. This may lead to the East Saanich road being routed into Sidney.

Plans are also being made to see that additional accommodation is provided for civilian training and flying at Pat Bay.

Conciliation Moves Loom In Packinghouse Strike

By Canadian Press

Conciliation moves—the first in some days—were evident in the Dominion-wide strike of 12,000 packinghouse workers today as strike votes were scheduled to be taken in the first two of 21 small, independent packers' plants.

A vote for a strike in these plants could swell the number of strike-idle United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.) members to 15,500, greatly increasing the possibility of a serious meat shortage. So far, no serious scarcity has resulted from the walkout of union members in their demand for higher wages.

One move toward conciliation was seen Tuesday night when Labor Minister Charles Daley of Ontario said at Toronto his government will accept a conciliator agreed-upon by the meat packers and their striking employees.

Another was a statement made at Regina by Fred Dowling, international representative of the union, who said his union would have no objection to the appointment of Leonard W. Brockington of Ottawa as conciliator for the four western provinces and New Brunswick. However, he added he did not think Mr. Brockington would be acceptable to packinghouse managements.

Yanks Make It 2 Straight; Win Over Brooks 10-3

YANKEE STADIUM, New York City—Smashing out 15 hits from the offerings of four Brooklyn pitchers, the New York Yankees won the second game of the World Series today, defeating the Dodgers 10 to 3.

Allie Reynolds, Yanks' leading pitcher during the regular season went the distance for the New Yorkers, giving up 9 hits. Tommy Henrich of Yankees and Dixie Walker of Brooklyn hit home runs both coming with the bases empty.

Vic Lombardi, pint-sized left-hander, who started for the Dodgers, was charged with the defeat.

Yarrows To Lay Off Shipyard Workers

There will be a layoff of shipyard workers at Yarrows Ltd., following launching of the $3,000,000 Canadian National's Prince George Monday, H. A. Wallace, Yarrows president, reported today.

The layoff will hit hardest at the ranks of the steelworkers. Mr. Wallace could not give any figures on the number of men who will be discharged but said he had already asked for an estimate of the number of workers who will no longer be required.

Medos Attempted To Cheat Hangman

VANCOUVER (CP)—Harry Medos, 22-year-old gunman, who died on the gallows at the Oakalla prison farm, made a last-minute attempt early today to cheat the hangman.

Prison authorities said he had attempted to commit suicide by slashing his wrists. He awakened shortly after 5 a.m. and cut his wrists with a small piece of razor blade.

King Announces Boost Applies To 1948's Crop

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King interrupted a cabinet meeting here today to announce that $2 a bushel had been agreed on as the price for Canadian wheat to the United Kingdom for the 1948-49 crop year, compared with the present price of $1.55.

The $2 a bushel for the 1948-49 crop will come into effect Aug. 1, 1948, and compares with the current world price in Chicago around $2.80.

The Canadian Wheat Board, sole purchasing agency of wheat in Canada, jacked up the initial price to the farmers in 1945 from $1.25 to $1.35. Any profits the Wheat Board makes on wheat transactions are returnable to the growers through participating certificates.

While the board supplies the British and domestic market with $1.55 wheat, its sales to foreign countries are at around world prices.

PARLIAMENT TO ACT

Trade Minister MacKinnon announced recently that the government will ask Parliament at the next session for authority to increase to current initial price of $1.35.

There was speculation at the time that this decision may have been based upon expectations that the 1948-49 price paid by Britain would advance. The amount of the proposed increase to farmers has not been determined.

Text of Mr. King's statement on the new price follows:

"A wheat price of $2 per bushel for the third year of the Canada-United Kingdom wheat contract has been agreed upon by the governments of Canada and the United Kingdom.

The price, basis in store Fort William, Port Arthur, Vancouver or Churchill for No. 1 northern wheat, applies to 140,000,000 bushels of wheat to be sold to the United Kingdom in the 1948-49 crop year under the terms of the contract which require that the price for the third year be negotiated and settled not later than Dec. 31, 1947.

"In the negotiations which took place during the past month both parties recognized the obligation contained in clause 2 (b) of the agreement, which requires that in settling the price to be paid in the last two years of the agreement period regard should be had to the difference in the first two years between the world prices and the agreement price.

"Having in mind the magnitude of the agreement and the long-term security which it provides, a precise arithmetical calculation of the difference in price was not suggested.

7½ Cents Pay Raise, Better Hours Offered By B.C.E.R.

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia Electric Railway Co. today offered 2,600 employees hourly pay increases totaling 7½ cents an hour, a three-point hourly work program for all employees, and other concessions in efforts to avert a threatened tie-up of its transportation system in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster.

Announced today by company president, A. E. Del Grauer, and officials of the Street Railwaymen's Union, the plan now goes to the union for ratification. Members will vote Oct. 6 on the new scheme, which reportedly would make Vancouver transportation employees the "highest paid in Canada."

Incorporating the 7½ cents an hour across the board increase advocated by Conciliation Board chairman, J. Edwin Eades, and the provision for inauguration of a 42-hour work week by mid-May, 1948, without any reduction in "take-home" pay, the proposals, Mr. Grauer said, provide for:

1. A five cents an hour increase to all platform employees retroactive to March 1, 1947, plus an additional 2½ cents an hour increase effective Oct. 1, 1947.
2. Introduction on a graduated scale of a 42-hour week for motormen, conductors and bus operators with the same "take-home" pay. (Effective March 16, 1948, 44-hour week would come into effect; effective May 16, 1948, a 42-hour week).
3. Introduction of this scale would mean one-man operators and bus operators would receive $11.2 an hour, the highest rate of its kind in Canada.

Another provision would give "extra men" five scheduled days off each month.

Work done on Saturdays will be paid at straight time and Sunday work will be paid for at time and a half.

The company will undertake the training for other jobs of employees who might otherwise be displaced by the modernization of the system.

Agreement had been reached on differential increases for certain categories of work done by garage, trackmen, repair and maintenance men, in general the conciliation board's recommendation being accepted on these points.

Also included is a clause whereby if the Dominion cost of living index in January, 1948, is 10 per cent or more above October of this year, the union has the right to elect a seven cents an hour increase across the board effective April 1, 1948, instead of the reduction in hours clause.

Walter Walker Will Retire As Reeve Of Oak Bay This Year

Reeve Walter Walker of Oak Bay announced today he will not seek re-election to the Oak Bay council in the forthcoming elections this year.

The retiring reeve first entered Oak Bay politics in 1933 when he was elected to the Oak Bay school board. In 1941, he was elected to the Oak Bay council, and has served for two years as reeve of the municipality.

Three councillors will complete their two-year terms this December. They are Councillors J. V. Johnson, G. Murdoch and P. A. Moir. None has yet made up his mind whether or not he will seek re-election.

Refuse To Allow Shortening Import

Swift Canadian Co. Ltd. has been refused permission by F. H. Leeburg, fats and oil administrator in Ottawa, to import shortening into Victoria for use of bakeries only, it was learned today.

A week ago Burns and Co. and Canada Packers were permitted to bring in lard for use in bread making, but bakers claim they need more fat, and particularly shortening for bakery products. Many are operating under difficulties, with the packing strike continuing, and it is increasingly hard for them to keep up production without the necessary fat.

In the wire, flatly refusing permission for the import of shortening, no reasons were given.

B.C.'s Labor Code Under Fire Of Delegates To Trades Congress

HAMILTON (CP)—Uniform provincial labor legislation in all provinces was urged today by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

The congress convention sought this action in approving reports of legislative activities of its provincial affiliates. Delegates also criticized the activities of the last session of parliament and regret was expressed that parliament had not enacted a "satisfactory" immigration policy.

SHIPPING ACT

Overhauling of the Canada Shipping Act was urged in another resolution.

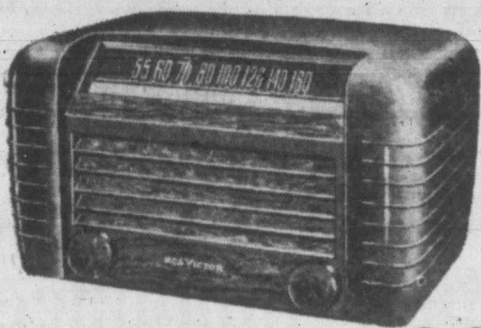

Amendments to British Columbia's new Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act were asked to "bring it into line with the wishes of organized labor."

The measure—known as Bill No. 39—had been criticized by several western congress affiliates.

Alex Gordon of Vancouver, newly-elected B.C. vice-president, said continuance of the act would "definitely endanger" unions on the west coast. It had many "objectionable features."

Lack of unity between the T.L.C. and the Canadian Congress of Labor in fighting Bill 39 was termed "unfortunate" by delegate Ryan of Vancouver. He said, too, there had been a split in the T.L.C. itself on the measure.

Author Is Shamed For Writing the Lively Story "Nana"

Emile Zola, one of the world's greatest writers, was scorned by his enemies until his death for writing the story entitled "Nana." Some called him the foulest of men and that the material for "Nana" was gained from his own personal experience.

Voluptuous and violent Nana created a world of luxury which revolved about her person. She squandered fortunes, ruined reputations and flaunted her successes with sublime abandon and contempt. Her reign over the men of Parisian society was absolute. Her power was passion.

"Nana" is now available in 35c Pocket Book Editions at your magazine dealers and is distributed from Vancouver Island by Lovick's News Agency, Victoria, B.C.

World Series—Play By Play

Following is a play-by-play account of the second game of the 1947 World Series between the New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers being played at Yankee Stadium, New York, today. New York won the opening game yesterday.

FIRST INNING

Dodgers—Reynolds' first pitch to Stanky zipped over for a called strike. Stanky took two called strikes then looked over the next three balls and finally went down swinging. Reynolds needed only four pitches to strike out Robinson who also went down swinging. Reiser swung at the first pitch and fled to Lindell in left.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Yankees—Stirnweiss lined Lombardi's first pitch to right field for a single. Henrich smashed a single over Stanky's head sending Stirnweiss to third. Jorgensen made a fine pick-up on Lindell's bouncer to his left, and started a double play with a flip to Stanky at second who relayed to Robinson ahead of Lindell. Stirnweiss scored on the play. Lindell was not credited with a run batted in. DiMaggio blazed a single off Reese's glove. McQuinn went down swinging.

One run, three hits, no errors, one left.

SECOND INNING

Dodgers—Walker lined to DiMaggio in straight centre. Johnson took Hermanski's high foul fly. Edwards fanned.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Yankees—Walker took Johnson's long fly. Jorgensen came in fast to scoop up Rizzuto's bunt down the third baseline and throw him out. Berra hit the first pitch on the ground to Stanky who easily tossed him out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

THIRD INNING

Dodgers—After working the count to three and two, Reese walked on a low inside pitch. Jorgensen smacked Reynolds' second pitch on a line directly at Henrich who made the catch without moving. DiMaggio sauntered to his right and pulled down Lombardi's high fly. Stanky swung and missed Reynolds' first pitch and Reese lit out for second and made a clean steal of the bag coming in ahead of Berra's high toss. Stanky hit the next pitch past the box over second base but Stirnweiss scooped over fast and made a glittering stop of the ball holding Stanky to an infield single and preventing Reese from going farther than third. Robinson dropped a single into short left, Reese scoring with the tying run. Stanky stopped at second. Reiser swung at a two and two pitch and struck out.

One run, two hits, no errors, two left.

Yankees—Reynolds golfed a low pitch to Jorgensen near third base and was an easy out. Jorgensen to Robinson. Stirnweiss smashed a towering drive into the left field stands but it went foul by several yards. With the count three and two, Stirnweiss then lined over Stanky's head into the hole between Reiser and Walker and by fast base running made a triple out of it as the ball rolled almost to the right-centre field wall. Jorgensen raced back and caught Henrich's fly holding Stirnweiss on third. Reiser missed a diving catch of Lindell's smash to right-centre field which rolled past him for a triple on which Stirnweiss easily crossed the plate to put the Yankees ahead 2 to 1. DiMaggio was then given an intentional base-on-balls. Lombardi used four pitches to strike out McQuinn.

One run, two hits, no errors, two left.

Fourth Inning

Dodgers—Walker hammered the first pitch into the right field stands for a home run. It was the first homer of the series and only the third by a Dodger in four world series. Hermanski bounded to McQuinn who tossed to Reynolds at first. Edwards hit a high pop to McQuinn who made the catch a foot behind first base. Reese punched a single into short right. On the second pitch to Jorgensen, Reese attempted to steal second and was cut down on a fine throw from Berra to Rizzuto. It was the first time Berra had nipped a base stealer in four attempts in the series.

One run, two hits, no errors.

Yankees—Stanky raced far back and got his hands on Johnson's drive but failed to hold it and it went for a triple, the third of the game for the Yankees. Rizzuto dropped a double into short left-centre. Johnson easily scored on the hit. Berra fled to Reiser in centre and Rizzuto raced to third after the catch. Reynolds bounced to Jorgensen and Rizzuto was declared out when he ran out of the baseline trying to evade a tag by the Dodger third baseman. Reynolds sneaked to second during the rundown. Stirnweiss went down swinging.

One run, two hits, no errors.

FIFTH INNING

Dodgers—Jorgensen went down swinging to become Reynolds' fifth strikeout victim. Lombardi grounded out, Rizzuto to McQuinn, who made a nice pick-up of the low throw. Rizzuto also whipped out Stanky.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—Henrich wallowed Lombardi's second pitch into the right-centre field bleachers over the 367-foot sign for a home run, the first by a Yankee in the series. Lindell hit a line drive which bounded in the left field stands for an automatic ground rule double. Dodger coach Clyde Sukeforth strode to the mound and after a brief conversation with Lombardi allowed the little lefthander to remain on the hill. When Lombardi's first pitch to DiMaggio was extremely low, Sukeforth again strode to the mound and this time signalled the end for Vic. Hal Gregg, a right-hander, relieved Lombardi. DiMaggio hit a grounder off Jorgensen's chest but the third baseman recovered and threw to first for the out, Lindell holding second. McQuinn singled off Reese's glove enabling Lindell to score. Johnson rapped back to the mound and Gregg, attempting to start a fast double play, threw to Stanky at second but Ed dropped the ball and both runners were safe. Stanky was charged with an error, the first by either side in the series. Reiser galloped into short left-centre to grab Rizzuto's fly, the runners held their bases. Berra struck out.

Two runs, three hits, one error, two left.

SIXTH INNING

Dodgers—Robinson fled to DiMaggio in short centre. Reiser stroked a single over Johnson's head into left field. Stirnweiss raced behind the mound and made a neat pick-up of Walker's chopped hit and started a double play with an underhand flip to Rizzuto at second which forced Reiser. Rizzuto relayed to McQuinn to double up Walker.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Yankees—Reynolds hit a ground single in the hole between third and short. Stirnweiss walked on five pitches, moving Reynolds to second. Henrich laid down a sacrifice bunt, Gregg fielding the tap and throwing to Stanky who covered first for the out. Both runners advanced a base on the sacrifice. Lindell cracked the first pitch to Hermanski in deep left, Reynolds easily scoring after the catch. DiMaggio looked at a third called strike.

One run, one hit, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING

Dodgers—Hermanski raised a high pop directly in front of home plate and when Berra and Johnson became confused as to who would make the catch the ball hit the ground in fair territory, but rolled foul before anyone could pick it up. Hermanski then struck out. Edwards lined a single into right field. Henrich caught Reese's fly. Jorgensen chopped the ball about six feet in front of the plate and beat Berra's throw for a single. The throw went wild past McQuinn. Edwards went to third on the error. Arky Vaughan swung for Gregg and fled to DiMaggio.

No runs, two hits, one error.

Yankees—Hank Behrman took the mound for Brooklyn. McQuinn singled into right field. Behrman uncorked a wild pitch enabling McQuinn to go to second. Johnson singled over second base scoring McQuinn and when Reiser let the ball roll through his legs Johnson raced to third on the error. Rizzuto popped to Stanky. Behrman then intentionally walked Berra. Reynolds bunted toward first and when Robinson allowed the ball to scoot by him into right field Johnson scored and Berra raced to third. Reynolds was credited with a single. Rex Barney—a righthander—replaced Behrman. Stirnweiss bounced to Robinson who wheeled to throw to second but when he saw that nobody covered the bag he held the ball and all runners were safe. Berra scored. Reynolds reached second and Stirnweiss was credited with a single. Henrich fled to Reiser, Reynolds racing to third after the catch. Barney then let loose with a wild pitch, which allowed Reynolds to score and Stirnweiss to scamper to second. Lindell walked. Jorgensen grabbed DiMaggio's wicked grounder and stepped on third, forcing Stirnweiss.

Four runs, four hits, one error.

EIGHTH INNING

Dodgers—Stanky hit sharply to Johnson who whipped across the diamond to McQuinn for the out. Robinson rapped a double off the low left field fence. Reiser fled to Henrich whose swift return throw kept Robinson on second. Rizzuto came in fast to make a glittering stop and throw of Walker's tap over the pitcher's head, and Walker was out on a play at first.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Yankees—McQuinn fled to Hermanski. Johnson fled to Reiser, who raced almost to centre field wall, 461 feet away, to haul in the smash. Hermanski came in fast to catch Rizzuto's fly in short left.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

NINTH INNING

Dodgers—Hermanski walked. Edwards hit the first pitch directly at Lindell who made the catch. Reese hit a ground single into left field sending Hermanski to third. Jorgensen bounced to Stirnweiss who threw to Rizzuto at second, forcing Reese. Rizzuto's throw to McQuinn was too late to catch the runner and Hermanski crossed the plate. Al Gionfriddo batted for Barney. Gionfriddo grounded to Johnson who threw to Stirnweiss forcing Jorgensen for the game-ending out.

One run, one hit, no errors.

Medos, Houston Pay With Lives At Oakalla Hangings

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two murderers paid for their crimes on twin scaffolds at the Oakalla Jail in nearby Burnaby municipality as dawn was breaking today.

Hangman Arthur Ellis sprang the traps of Harry Medos, 22, and Davis Houston, 28-year-old Indian, simultaneously at 6:06 a.m. They were pronounced dead 15 minutes later. It was the first multiple hanging in British Columbia in 10 years.

Houston had been convicted of the Nov. 3 slaying of Mrs. Beatrice Smith, cook at Belize Inlet logging camp. Medos was hanged for the slaying of Constable Charles Boyes in a gun-battle Feb. 26 on the False Creek flats in Vancouver's industrial area.

BLAMED CHEAP NOVELS

Medos, who lost his appeal, heard in Victoria, told Rev. W. H. Ross Macpherson of Vancouver, who gave him spiritual consolation, during talks over the last several weeks, that he "got a bad start by reading cheap detective novels and seeing a lot of cheap gangster movies."

Seventeen-year-old William Henderson also was to have died on the gallows today, but was granted a reprieve last week until Oct. 22, pending rendering of a decision on his appeal against conviction of murder for Boyes' death. A third member of the bandit trio, Douglas Eldon Carter, died by police bullets during the gun battle in which Constable Boyes and G. O. Ledingham were killed.

Last multiple hanging in British Columbia took place at Oakalla prison in the fall of 1937, when the two George brothers

Price Comparisons Of Year Ago Tell Reason Why Family Budget Worries Housewives

The high cost of living is the topic of conversation today. No matter what the income, if it is derived from a weekly salary, the family is vitally concerned with the price of food.

The housewife who wonders today, why she cannot buy the little "luxury" food items she bought on her budget a year ago and still provide the staple foods for herself, husband and family, needs but to compare prices of today and a year ago.

Prices have increased as much as a third in some items, and in a few, nearly doubled, according to retailers. Almost every item has advanced in price in the food line, even if only slightly, they said.

For butter which the housewife bought at 46 cents a pound in September of last year, she pays 70 cents a pound today. Tea which sold for 68 cents a pound is now 89; coffee at 39, is now 51. Peanut butter doubled in price with a one-pound jar of well-known brand selling at 22 cents a year ago and 43 cents today.

Shoppers who hoped to beat the shortages or high prices of bakery ingredients by buying cakes, cookies and pastries found the commercial baker was in the same position they were in.

For example, the housewife could buy a 24-pound bag of flour for 79 cents last September. This year she must pay $1.45 for the same bag, or an increase of 66 cents. Shortening has gone from 20 to 32 cents on the pound and lard from 22 to 28. Bread sold at 8 cents a loaf, unwrapped, last September, and is now 10 cents. Milk has likewise taken a 2-cent jump, from 13 and 15 cents a quart to 15 and 17 for standard and special milk, respectively.

Whether it is milk, bread, butter, groceries, bakery goods or meat, the story holds true.

REASONS OFFERED

Decontrol of most food items in the past year and dropping of government subsidies offer part of the explanation for higher prices.

Statements from manufacturers that increased cost of raw products, labor and the general manufacturing process and equipment, must also be taken into consideration according to local retailers.

Whatever the reason for the increases, the shopper who today finds that she cannot make $10 go as far as she did a year ago, does not need to blame it on herself and call it "poor management."

The reason can be found on her grocery list day after day. A survey made Tuesday in Victoria, covering some 50 items revealed increases from 1 cent to 66 cents. In each case, the price given on the article for September, 1946, and for September, 1947, is the regular price and not a "special."

The figures were checked for accuracy by managers of retail grocery and meat departments. In many cases, there will be variations as each store, large and small has its own price range. Articles may sell at slightly different prices dependent upon the store. But insofar as possible, the figures represent the average, and are quoted on well-known and popular brands of goods.

Temporary Order Halts Kenney From Acting As Labor Minister

VANCOUVER (CP)—Members of the striking United Steelworkers' Union (C.I.O.) Tuesday won a decision over the British Columbia government when Chief Justice Wendell B. Farris granted a temporary order restraining Linds and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney from acting as labor minister under the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

The order will stand until Monday, when the court will hold a formal hearing on the application by the steelworkers for a permanent restraint.

Alderman Alex Fisher, appearing for the union, asked for an order against Mr. Kenney on the grounds that the I.C.A. Act gave him powers of a judge and that the bill infringed on a federal field—criminal law—in making an offence of a strike called without a secret ballot.

Purpose of the restraint order, however, is to prevent Mr. Kenney from taking the place of Labor Minister George Pearson in dealings under the act.

Bill 39 as passed at the last session of the Legislature, the union argued, made no provision for an acting labor minister to replace the regular Minister of Labor while the latter was holding office and available to perform his duties.

Sees Churches As Allies In Work

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Rev. Gordon A. Sisco of Toronto, secretary of the General Council of the United Church of Canada, said today Methodism might greet Roman Catholicism as an ally "on the purely religious side."

Dr. Sisco's address was given before the last full day's session of the nine-day Ecumenical Methodist Conference here. The United Church of Canada is connected with the western section of the United States Ecumenical Methodist Council.

Dr. Sisco's address described Methodism as "characteristically catholic." Its founder, John Wesley, took over the Bible as interpreted by the church fathers, adding Church of England theology and Moravian religious practices.

U.K. Conservatives To Study Campaigns For New Members

BRIGHTON, Eng. (CP)—Anxiety of rank-and-file Conservatives over their party's ability to gather new support despite the difficulties of the Labor government is indicated in resolutions submitted to the three-day national convention which will open Thursday in this south coast resort.

At last year's Blackpool convention a forceful younger element protested that the party's organization and publicity methods were out of date. They upheld the theory that 5,000,000 British voters will always vote Conservative, another 5,000,000 always will vote Labor, leaving about 15,000,000 who have no party affiliation but are influenced by prevailing conditions.

Lord Woolton, as chairman of the party organization, has lived Conservative efforts, but the resolutions indicate local associations doubt whether the wartime food minister is reaching as many of the 15,000,000 doubtfuls as he might.

POSTS FOR WAGE EARNERS

The Barnsley, Yorks., Association asks the conference to declare dissatisfaction with the "attitude of the party towards working class wage earners and their failure to encourage working men to enter into the highest levels of the party" and recommends "immediate steps to be taken to alleviate this position."

The Bury, Lancs., Association would get Conservatives out on the street corners preaching their beliefs. This association claims "the spoken word has been too long neglected by our party."

Sir Wavell Wakefield, Conservative member of Parliament for St. Marylebone, London, a working class constituency, will present a resolution from his local association saying the party's viewpoint has been presented without due regard to the psychology of the voters it hopes to attract.

Hitler Reported Poorly Informed

NUERNBERG (AP)—Adolf Hitler was the "worst-informed man in Europe."

This blunt appraisal of the Fuehrer was made by his own secretary, lantern-jawed Johanna Wolf, who at 50 still bears the countenance the Nazis thought the ideal German woman.

Wedded to her work in the Nazi Party for many years, Fraulein Wolf still doesn't know what happened to crash down her house of cards. United States prosecutors have no interest in her as a defendant. They are holding her only as a witness. The German denazification court, well aware of her gold party badge, will have the last say about her future.

Her slant on Hitler is a first-hand one. She worked as secretary to him and before that to Rudolf Hess, the Deputy Fuehrer now serving a life sentence.

She is inclined even yet to give Hitler the best of it in her appraisals except for his knowledge—or rather lack of it.

Fraulein Wolf told interrogators it was "amazing" how little the Fuehrer really knew. After he had become all-powerful his supply of knowledge stopped because he wouldn't listen to anyone.

That probably explains Hitler's insane idea that Germany was strong enough to push over Russia, Britain and the United States rolled into one.

No two snake species have identical venoms.

London's Barrow Boys Find Season Profitable As Fall Comes

LONDON (CP)—London's barrow boys—sharp-witted street vendors who are ready to sell anything from peaches to shoe laces—are back on the streets, large as life and almost twice as plentiful as before the war.

A long dry summer and plentiful fruit supplies made the job more attractive than it will seem when December rains are sluicing down. Then a lot of ex-servicemen who took to barrows will probably modify their ideas about indoor occupations.

By then, too, many of them will have found little substance to the rumors of the staggering profits to be made in the trade. Some of the brighter lads in the west end do well by running up prices at the right times, but there are many more who find it a touch-and-go business, although generally free of such nuisances as income tax.

BACKED BY STRACHEY

The barrow boys have had some nasty things said about them in recent months. Housewives and even members of parliament have accused them of profiteering and hinted at worse practices. But they surprisingly won the support of Food Minister Strachey, who said their way of selling was traditionally English.

The typical barrow boy will probably wear a wrinkled suit, often has a muffler in place of a tie, and wears a cap more often than a hat. A cigarette generally hangs from his lips. He doesn't encourage conversation with his customers, but it's not so much because of a surly nature as that he's busy watching up and down the street for policemen.

A five-shilling license is all the barrow boy needs to ply his trade, but he's not allowed to create an obstruction on the streets. He has to keep on the move. When the blue-clad bobby heaves in sight, the barrow starts rolling. Some of them even pay £1 a day to a "buck" or lookout who warns of the law's approach.

This movement is a constant source of annoyance to the vendor, particularly if he has a profitable pitch. Ten to one he circles the block and if the constable has gone, sets up his stall again.

Most of the boys rent their barrows at four shillings a day, plus a month's deposit. For that they get a long, flat barrow with wheels at one end and leg-rests

Radio Display Aims At Boosting Export Of British Machines

LONDON (Reuter)—The latest marvels of British radio went on display today at "Radiolympia" in the greatest exhibition in the industry's history. Queen mother Mary was among the distinguished visitors at a preview Tuesday and was shown delicate radar, electronics and television equipment.

The government has set British radio a monthly export target of £1,000,000 ($4,000,000)—five times the 1938 figure—and exhibitors at Radiolympia are concentrating on inquiries from the foreign market.

There is growing foreign interest in British television equipment, and the BBC will stage at the exhibition the biggest public television spectacle yet seen in this or any other country.

Due to its immense war effort and wartime developments, the British radio industry can handle immediately big foreign orders.

Britain is hoping Dominion representatives will be prominent among buyers. Some Dominions have hitherto bought much of their radio equipment from the United States.

India is of particular interest to the promoters of the exhibition. Before the war India provided nearly 20 per cent of British radio's foreign market, and that percentage was again reached during the first six months of this year. Manufacturers fear that current political disturbances may, by their effects on the economic system of India and Pakistan, have serious results for British radio manufacturers.

Little Prospect For Legalized Margarine

VANCOUVER (CP)—There is little chance that the use of margarine will be legalized in Canada, Howard Green, Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Vancouver South, said here Tuesday.

The large farm representation in the House of Commons makes it most likely that "the situation will remain the same after the present row is over," Mr. Green told a Lions Club meeting.

Gandhi Celebrates 79th Birthday

NEW DELHI (AP)—Mohandas K. Gandhi will be 79 years old tomorrow. He spent the eve of the anniversary in typical fashion, in prayer and fasting.

The occasion found the wiry little champion of Indian independence suffering from a slight attack of influenza, but otherwise in reasonably good health for his years.

He is planning a trip to the strife-torn Punjab in a few days to continue his campaign for an end to bitter communal strife that has claimed hundreds of lives in that province since India's recent division into separate Hindu and Moslem states.

REASON MUST PREVAIL

WITHIN A RELATIVELY FEW HOURS after this is read the people of British Columbia probably will have learned what Mr. Hart proposes to do about his present and future political activities. As this is written he is in Vancouver conferring with the Liberal members of the Legislature who were elected in 1945 under the Coalition banner. Tomorrow he will meet the provincial executive of the British Columbia Liberal Association. It is before that body that he is expected to give a detailed account of his stewardship from the time he became head of a two-party administration in the winter of 1941. He will have much to tell to which he may point with pardonable pride. And not the least solid achievement in that record, of course, was the victory at the polls two years ago this month. On that occasion the Socialist opposition was reduced from 15 to 10. Included in those of Mr. Winch's party who fell by the wayside, it will be recalled, were six of his most capable debaters—three men and three women. Nor need the Premier hesitate to report to the provincial executive the numerous tributes he has received from members of all parties, and dozens from those without specific political affiliations, all enthusiastically testifying to the efficacy of government under the Coalition dispensation. The implication inherent in this reflection of public opinion should neither be overlooked nor regarded lightly.

It would be foolish to suppose that any substantial element of the delegates assembled in Vancouver will desire to follow any course that might disturb the harmonious co-operation which has animated all the members of the cabinet since the inception of the Coalition. Nor is there the slightest reason why, in the event of Mr. Hart's early retirement, a subsequent ministerial rearrangement under a new leader should be attended by serious qualms about the continuance of a procedure which has so manifestly conformed to the wishes of a preponderance of the province's electors. Certainly there may be some plain talk at tomorrow's meeting; such is good for the political soul. Our friends of the provincial Progressive Conservative Party also may be experiencing some internal problems; they are no less solicitous for the well-being of the Coalition than Mr. Hart and his supporters. In other words, if both executives shall place the good and welfare of the province, its future economic and political stability, firmly ahead of individual personal feelings and interests, the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation's fervent prayer for the collapse of the Coalition system in this part of Canada should remain unanswered for a long time to come. And now, as never before, those who believe in the democratic way of life should remember the adage: United We Stand, Divided We Fall.

OUR TURN TO SERVE

CANADIANS GENERALLY WILL ECHO the clear words voiced by Rt. Hon. Mr. J. L. Halsey, Minister of Justice and Canada's delegate to the General Assembly of the United Nations, in commenting on the election of this Dominion to a seat on the Security Council: "We believe that security and peaceful progress can best be obtained for the people of the world through an effective international organization. If we are to enjoy the benefits of such an organization, we must accept its responsibilities. That we are prepared to do."

Membership in the 11-nation Council will place Canada in the full limelight of international affairs, for it is in this body, charged with the "primary responsibility for the maintenance of international peace and security," that most of the global action affecting the future of mankind has recently taken place. It is here that the issue of world war or world peace will in all likelihood be settled.

Five of the Council members have permanent seats: Britain, the United States, Russia, France and China. Each one of these nations, in addition, has the power to veto the action of the rest of the Council if a decision does not please it. Apart from votes on membership in the United Nations, which must pass the Security Council, Russia has invoked the veto 20 times and France twice. The other three permanent members have not yet used it. Holding seats until the end of 1948 are Belgium, Colombia and Syria. And elected yesterday, to hold seats for two years beginning next Jan. 1, are Canada and Argentina. They will succeed Australia and Brazil, whose terms expire at that time. Balloting for the eleventh seat, to replace Poland, continued today, with India and the Ukraine competing as this is written.

This, then, is the body of which Canada will soon become a member. Mr. Halsey's declaration that the Dominion is prepared to accept its responsibilities carries far more implication than that this country is merely ready to take its seat on the Council. It means that we also are willing and ready to back up, with armed intervention if necessary, the decisions of the world body. Such words cannot be idle ones. The Security Council, under the terms of the Charter, has three methods by which it may attempt to settle international disputes: by negotiation, by breaking off relations partially or completely, or by force.

The chief stumbling block so far to Security Council agreement and action on the various problems which come before it has been the recalcitrance of the Soviet Union and her satellite, Poland. Time after time the Council has been balked by a "no" vote from this quarter, leaving such matters as atomic energy, disarmament and the Balkan situation still unresolved. To overcome this difficulty, United States Secretary of State Marshall has proposed a permanent committee of the General Assembly which would serve to by-pass the Security Council in case of deadlock. Meanwhile, however, the vital conference chamber of the Council continues to be a place of tension and distrust.

PROGRESSIVE OR CONSERVATIVE?

DOWN IN THE POPULAR SOUTH coast resort of Brighton—the scene of a political convention—the Conservative Party of Great Britain tomorrow will attempt to close ranks. By this we mean that the "ginger group" of the official opposition in the House of Commons originally headed by youthful Major Quintin Hogg, National Conservative member for Oxford City since 1938, and now apparently taken over by former progressive Minister of Education R. A. Butler, will tell the less imaginative stalwarts who look for their guidance to 63-year-old Sir Herbert Williams, long vice-chairman of the National Union of Conservative Associations, where they are headed unless they face the facts of these times.

It is not suggested that spokesmen for that substantial element of "grass-roots" Conservative thought in the House of Commons will say or do anything calculated to emphasize the schism of which all students of the British political scene are fully aware. Nor will there be any disposition to embarrass Mr. Churchill who, by the way, is being charged with mixing a wartime attitude of mind and action with the stern realities which complicated economics are underscoring. But in view of the fact that the Attlee government has not lost one by-election of the 31 it has contested since it acquired power by an impressive majority in the early summer of 1945, it is not surprising that no holds are to be barred among the 3,000 delegates expected at Brighton.

Too much importance, however, should not be placed on this traditional party stocktaking. It is chiefly significant for its recognition on the part of the more progressive elements of the Conservative Party that the mental processes of the people who were largely responsible for the victory of the Baldwin government in 1935 underwent a complete change during the war years—as evidenced by the popular verdict in 1945—and more than two years of Socialist rule has solidified it. Within Conservative ranks, moreover, there appear to be some who are far from blind to the march of events and the political guidance to be deduced therefrom. For example, among those who will take part in the discussions of the agenda's 28 resolutions at the south coast gathering are some who contend that there would be no need for a Conservative government—in the event of victory at a general election—to denationalize the Bank of England or the coal mining industry. It is naturally this attitude of mind which is anathema to the old guard of British Toryism.

Back of all this is a large question mark hovering over the future of the Liberal Party. Some realistic intellectuals in Great Britain are suggesting that the time now has arrived to consolidate the forces that would constitute a bulwark against extremism. And in this respect, incidentally, Canada's political problem is similar to that of Britain. Surely between Right and Left there is a middle path toward political and economic stability. Will the disciples of rigid old-time party controversy realize their duty here and elsewhere? Or will they be content to indulge in the old squabbles and give aid and comfort to the forces of regimentation?

IN GRATITUDE

FEW EXPRESSIONS OF SENTIMENT accompanying donations to the Mayor's Fund for Paroled Prisoners will typify more honestly the spirit in which contributions are made than that voiced by the ex-service organization known as Spencer's Remnants. Recalling the manner in which Britons shared rations with Canadians stationed overseas, they have declared:

"In our land of plenty, these generous actions are not forgotten, and it is not only a duty but a privilege to offer them a share of ours. Many a child's life may be saved or an older person's made more comfortable by a very small sacrifice on our part."

The Remnants remembered a very personal experience overseas. But their attitude will be shared by all who recall the sacrifices undergone by the people of the United Kingdom during the war and who recognize what that ready acceptance of sacrifice has meant to this country which escaped the enemy's bombs and shells.

We can defeat other races, but they outsmart us. They know we are too soft-hearted to let them lie at the roadside and moan.

Walter Lippmann

THE COLD WAR

IN THE FIRST ARTICLE of this series, I said that Mr. X's article on "The Sources of Soviet Conduct" was "a document of primary importance on the sources of American foreign policy" in that it disclosed to the world the estimates, the calculations, and the conclusions on which is based that part of American foreign policy which is known as the Truman Doctrine. Fortunately, it seems to me, the Truman Doctrine does not have a monopoly. Though it is a powerful contender for the control of American foreign policy, there are at least two serious competitors in the field. The one we may call the Marshall line, and the other is the American commitment to support the United Nations.

The contest between the Truman Doctrine on the one hand, the Marshall line and the support of U.N. on the other, is the central drama within the State Department, within the Administration, within the government as a whole.

THE REAL ISSUE is hidden because the Truman Doctrine was promulgated shortly after General Marshall became Secretary of State, and because he made the decision to go to the support of Greece and Turkey, which was a concrete application of the Truman Doctrine. The issue is confused by the fact that Mr. Molotov and the Soviet propaganda abroad and many publicists here at home are representing the Marshall proposals to Europe as an application of the Truman Doctrine. The confusion is compounded still more because the director of Secretary Marshall's planning staff is now known, through the publication of Mr. X's article, to have been the leading expert upon whose observations, predictions, and hypotheses the Truman Doctrine is based.

Nevertheless, if we look at the two main theatres of American diplomatic interest—at China and at Europe—and if we fix our attention on Secretary Marshall's approach, we can see a line of policy developing which is altogether different from the line of the Truman Doctrine. General Marshall's report on China, which has now been reviewed and confirmed by General Wedemeyer, made it quite clear that in his judgment the United States could not, and should not, attempt the kind of intervention in China she is carrying on in Greece.

THE MARSHALL and Wedemeyer reports do not argue that the United States can contain the Soviet Union and erect unassailable barriers in its path by participating in the Chinese civil war, as she is in the Greek civil war, and by underwriting Chiang Kai-shek's government as she is underwriting the Athens government. The Marshall line in China is not an application of the Truman Doctrine, but of an older American doctrine that the United States must not become entangled all over the world in disputes that she alone cannot settle. Yet the Marshall line in China is not isolationist.

The line of the Marshall policy in China is to disentangle the United States, to reduce, not to extend her commitments in Asia, to give up the attempt to control events which she does not have the power, the influence, the means, and the knowledge to control. The proposal which Secretary Marshall addressed to Europe in his Harvard speech last June was animated by the same fundamental conception.

THE MARSHALL SPEECH at Harvard treats the European governments as independent powers, whom the United States must help but cannot presume to govern, or to use as instruments of an American policy.

The Harvard speech was delivered about three months after President Truman's message. Much had happened in those three months, and all of it had gone to show that while Congress and the people were willing to applaud the Truman Doctrine, because they are exasperated with Russia, they were not going to support it with the funds and blanket authority which it requires.

Out of the knowledge that the Truman Doctrine was unworkable in Europe, that Congress would not support it anyway, and that a constructive revival of European collaboration was imperatively necessary, the policy of the Harvard speech was conceived. If the planning of policy in the Truman administration were, however, to be dominated by the conclusions propounded by Mr. X, the Marshall proposals will fail. For the European crisis is insoluble if Europe remains divided by the iron curtain, raised by the Russians, and by the containing wall which the United States is supposed to construct.

BUT THERE ARE REASONS for thinking that the Russians will not be able to maintain the iron curtain and that the west cannot construct western Europe as a containing wall. They are that the vital needs of the people of Europe will prevail: The economic interdependence of western and eastern Europe will compel the nations of the Continent to exchange their goods across the military, political and ideological boundary lines which now separate them.

Thus from all quarters in eastern Europe and in western Europe, in Washington and in Moscow, the pressure will increase to reunite the divided economy of Europe—and perhaps to go on toward a greater unity than ever existed before.

Out Of The Past

Understanding Will Clear The Way

By WELLINGTON JEFFERS, Financial Editor in The Toronto Globe and Mail

CANADIAN public opinion, so far as I have encountered it, will fully support the stand of the Dominion government that the United States has "no right" to take any action which will infringe on Canadian sovereignty in its current investigation into an alleged newsprint combine.

That same public opinion was dead against the attempt of the Securities and Exchange Commission when it tried to get the Extradition Treaty amended a few years ago so that Canadians might be taken down to the United States for any violation, innocent or otherwise, of the many thousands of security regulations and laws south of the border. It supports the stand taken by newsprint executives who have refused to answer a summons of this character as illegal and arrogant.

VISIT WILL HELP

The proposed visit to Toronto and other places on Oct. 7 and 8 of the members of the Newsprint Committee of the United States House of Representatives, headed by Clarence J. Brown, is in another category. All the members of the industry are glad to have this visit because they are proud of the industry, they have nothing to hide and would like to have the committee fully cognizant of all aspects of the industry. It was far different, however, when the United States Department of Justice last March issued subpoenas against the Canadian companies, ordering them to appear in a New York district court and to bring from Canada voluminous files and data regarding their business. It was not even thought necessary to refer the matter to the Canadian government. The whole affair looked so queer to W. G. Chandler of the Scripps-Howard Newspapers that he visited Canada in August for the express purpose of finding out how the whole matter was regarded here. His reports show that no one minded matters.

PRODUCERS INDIGNANT

Mr. Chandler found members of the industry itself indignant at the suspicion expressed that there was a conspiracy against United States consumers to restrict supply or rig prices. They were particularly incensed over the declaration of an official that "Canadian newsprint producers have a long bad record and may properly be suspected of being criminals." That was regarded as not only in atrocious taste but as showing an utter ignorance of what the industry has done in supplying the United States. It is far from the best American tradition of a "good neighbor" policy.

One Canadian said to Mr. Chandler: "Your Washington authorities seem to think we're some fourth-rate little country which they can push around as they like." Another man borrowed Winston Churchill's words and said "What kind of people do you think we are?" More than that, Mr. Chandler reports these feelings shared by Canadian government people, people in Canadian banks and financial institutions, and by Canadians in general who know what is going on.

NATIONAL SOVEREIGNTY

The main issue in Canadian minds, says Mr. Chandler, is one of Canadian sovereignty and independence. In this particular instance the Canadian parties directly affected happen to be newsprint companies but Canadians assert that the issue would be the same if the companies were manufacturers of boots and shoes or washing machines. Canadian resentment in this case is aggravated by the fact that newsprint is Canada's greatest industry, using vast areas of public owned forests under government supervision, and that it has a record of remarkable performance in providing United States consumers with the largest supply in history at the lowest market prices in the world.

One Canadian said to Mr. Chandler, "What's the use of this industry doing the great job it has done, and chewing up our Canadian forest for you, if we are going to be treated like so-and-so's no matter how well we perform?"

Mr. Chandler believes that the business of good relationship between Canada and the United States concerns every intelligent publisher, American or Canadian. He says there is no doubt that it is being strained by the Department of Justice's newsprint tactics, in conjunction with the recent coal car embargo episode.

For Vishinsky—Too Much Information

By JAMES THRASHER, From New York

THE clash between Secretary Marshall and Deputy Foreign Minister Vishinsky was "a sharp, pointed, blank" encounter so far in the so-called cold war between the United States and Russia. Mr. Vishinsky made a fierce showing and fired a lot of shots. But when the smoke cleared away it was evident that he had been shooting a good many blanks and that he probably had picked the wrong place to stand and give battle.

The Soviet delegate's speech would have been a fine one to make in Russia. But the members of the General Assembly, unlike the Russian people, have access to both sides of the questions discussed. They have seen the train of events which has led to this cold war.

STRANGE OMISSION

Perhaps Mr. Vishinsky's greatest error was in ignoring the causes of what he calls America's war-mongering attitude. Anyone unacquainted with the facts would have thought that Russia had never violated an agreement, never made a demand, never moved outside her own boundaries since the war.

Elsewhere Mr. Vishinsky evaded, omitted and distorted in his discussion of issues to such an extent that the result may truly be called lying. For instance, he said "the United States resists any attempts to dismantle the existing stock of atomic bombs and outlaw their future production."

That just isn't so, and Mr. Vishinsky knows it. The only question is one of timing. Russia wants all American atomic bombs destroyed before any control machinery is set up.

ALL INVITED

Mr. Vishinsky said that the purpose of the Marshall plan is "to break Europe into two camps and a bloc . . . the formation of a complete number of European countries hostile to the interests of the democratic states of eastern Europe, and, first of all, to those of the Soviet Union."

That also isn't so, and Mr. Vishinsky knows it. All the "democratic states of eastern Europe," including Russia, were invited to participate in the Marshall plan. It was their refusal that helped to divide Europe into two camps.

The minority disagreement was whether the commission had power to recommend action as well as report on its findings. The findings themselves were supported by those members of non-Communist-dominated countries who favored limiting the report to what they had seen.

NO PROOF

And if it would be so easy to prove that the commission's findings were contradictory and exaggerated, why hasn't the Soviet government done so? It has proved nothing in the matter. It has only vetoed. (Incidentally, Mr. Vishinsky steered clear of the veto beyond a reference to Russia's well-known and never-changing position.)

All in all, the Soviet delegate did pretty well with what he had to work with. But we doubt that it won his country any new friends. His protestation of faith in the U.N. was in sad contradiction to the record that his audience knows—a record of Soviet opposition and renunciation of majority opinion.

If Mr. Vishinsky's address showed anything new in Soviet policy, it would seem to be that the American government has a clear and positive policy, in and out of the U.N., that now has the Russian government a little worried.

Global Survey

Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst

Appointment of Sir Stafford Cripps as economic czar of Britain, coupled with a new measure under which the government can compel jobless workers to take essential employment, places the country under a considerable degree of that stern regimentation which one associates with wartime controls.

This drastic step, unprecedented in modern England, gives us a fair measure of the gravity of Britain's crisis. It is a move which no democratic country would tolerate except from necessity in these parlous days of totalitarianism, for fear that the experiment might get out of hand and lead to more regimentation than was bargained for.

Sir Stafford's assignment to the vast responsibility of leading the country out of the economic wilderness is a striking commentary on our changing times. He is a member of the Labor Party, but it isn't so many years ago that this reputedly wealthy lawyer was read out of the party on the grounds that he was too extreme—too much a leftist.

Since those days he has served in many important government positions, both under the Conservative prime ministership of Churchill and in the Socialist regime. And now he has been made economic czar by the party which once thought he was too radical. He hasn't changed his views, but labor has.

Actually this individual on whom England is pinning so much faith is a good deal of an enigma even to his friends. They know him as a brilliant man of many attainments—such an outstanding personality that five years ago his name was sweeping the country and the general opinion was that he was headed for the prime ministership. However, the workings of his mind are hard to fathom, and the public doesn't really know him well.

JUST A PHONY

Edmonton Bulletin
There is no way to reach the discourteous driver except through his own conscience. This should remind him, however, that his selfish and thoughtless behavior plainly stamps him for what he is—a phony and an exhibitionist.

IMPROPER

Exchange
The use of a circulation test as a means of banning the distribution of Toronto's Communist daily newspaper by nickel-in-the-slot boxes on the street corners is a thoroughly improper device, and the Toronto Board of Control is probably sorry by this time that it adopted it. It has afforded the Communists a splendid opportunity to do some more blighting about freedom of the press, and has compelled a lot of people (like ourselves) who have no sympathy with their objectives to support them in this particular issue because they happen to be right.

BOON OF THE BATH

The Times of London
It is undeniably in his bath that man gives vent to all that innate laziness which for the rest of the day he must keep sternly bottled up. The voice of duty may tell him to make room for other peris at the gates of paradise. Their claims may be urged by rattlings of the bolt and inquiries whether he has nearly done. Yet something stronger than himself keeps him abjectly wallowing and that shameful action seems for a moment to impart to the water a fresh and restraining glow. There are some so incapable of the requisite movement that the most they can do is to pull the chain by a manipulation of the toe and to leave themselves high and dry, like some poor whale marooned upon the beach. Short of that effort only the gradual chill creeping over them will drive them forth at last. Hard days are before us and it may well be that "sore labor's bath" will be reduced in winter to the scanty five inches of wartime. It is almost a pity that at such a moment so dreadfully tempting a device should have been invented.

Natural Increase
In B.C.'s Population
8,691 In 7 Months

The natural increase of British Columbia's population during the first seven months of this year has been 8,691, the Provincial Division of Vital Statistics reported today.

The increase, representing the excess of births over deaths for the January to July period compares favorably with the 1946 increase of 6,300 for the same period.

During the first seven months of this year 14,553 births were recorded. July births number 2,415, giving a birth rate of 28.99 per 1,000 population as compared to a July, 1946, rate of 25.67. July births this year were the highest monthly total for 1947 and 1946.

Deaths during July number 859, giving a rate of 10.31 per 1,000 population, compared with 752 or a rate of 9.24 for July, 1946.

The division reported a sharp increase in marriages during July and a slight decrease in divorces.

July marriages topped the 1947 monthly figures, totaling 1,303 to outnumber the previous July total by 181. Divorces dropped from 187 in July, 1946, to 123 in July of this year. July divorces are the smallest for any month of this year.

Illegitimate births dropped below corresponding 1946 monthly totals for the first time this July when 87 were listed. The 1947 total to date of 681 remains higher than the 1946 total of 656 for the January to July period.

Infant deaths last July totaled 62, compared with 61 during July, 1946, bringing the seven-month total for this year to 457, compared with 364 for the corresponding 1946 period.

Maternal deaths totaled two last July, compared with three in July, 1946.

Uncle Ray

WATER AND WIND
BROKE UP ROCKS WHICH PROVIDED SOIL

One summer day, while I was climbing Long's Peak in the Rocky Mountains, I crossed what is known as "Boulder Field." It is a great space on the mountain side, a space containing thousands of boulders. Many of the boulders are four or five feet high.

Those boulders differ from the ones which glaciers spread over the northern half of our continent long ago. Their edges are more square than rounded, since they were not hauled about by a glacier in a way which would knock the edges off.

We might suppose that a giant, or an army of giants, had moved those boulders to Boulder Field, but that is not the way they got there! They came from rock layers which were broken into pieces. In the thousands of years ahead, we may expect the boulders to be broken up further, until, at last they become soil.

COVERED WITH ROCKY CRUST

Scientists tell us that at one time the earth had no soil above but was covered with a rocky crust. Oceans and seas covered a great deal of the rock, but the rest was above water level.

Rain did much to break up the top rock layers of the earth. During a period of thousands of years it wore away the rock little by little. Small streams and large rivers were formed by the rain, and they ran toward the sea. As they emptied into the sea, they dropped bits of rock and formed delta land.

Water got into cracks in the rock. When the water froze, the ice did not have quite enough space, and pressed against the rock, breaking off chunks.

Waves played part Ocean waves also played a part in breaking up rock. They beat against cliffs, and broke away bits which became sand. By and by there were sandy beaches in thousands of places.

Winds caught up dry sand and carried it here and there. Strong winds, with sand in them, helped to wear away the sides of many cliffs.

At last there was enough soil for the growth of plants. Several forms of plant life arose, including vast numbers of tree ferns. When the plants died, they added richness to the soil.

So we may say that winds and water have turned rock into soil. Today we find soil on "dry land" of the earth. In certain places it is only a few inches deep, but elsewhere it has a depth of from 100 to 200 feet. Below the soil we find partly-decayed rock, and bed rock.

Sand, soil and clay soil are the two main kinds. Commonly they are mixed, but there may be much more of one than the other. Common clay soil tends to become very muddy when it is wet. If it becomes very dry, it will become powdery on the surface, and some of it may be blown away as dust.

KAOLIN FOR PORCELAIN
There are several kinds of clay soil, including fire clay, pipe clay and potter's clay. One kind is known as "kaolin," and it is used in making the best grades of porcelain, or chinaware.

Kaolin is a pure white clay which has been used in China for many centuries in the making of porcelain. Deposits of this clay have been found in France, Germany and Great Britain; also in parts of the United States—chiefly Pennsylvania and the Carolinas. A mass of kaolin of extra-fine quality has been discovered in England, and thousands of tons of it have been shipped abroad. Even China has imported a good deal of the English kaolin.

Ladies—Relax Or Lose Your Hair

CHICAGO (AP) — American women have the most glamorous hair in the world, an Australian hair dresser said yesterday, but "they must learn to relax" or they will get that European "bombed look."

If Milady doesn't stop letting things get in her hair, said Frederic Rau of Melbourne, her hair "may fall out or at least lose its lustre," because "nerves have everything to do with hair."

"In England hair is rotten today," Rau told a reporter at the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists' Association meeting. The ladies in Rome and Paris are having hair troubles, too. "The bombings did it. They shattered women's nerves and ruined their hair."

Eye Specialist Plans School 'Down Under'

MISS MARGARET LYDIATT

"Complete relaxation is the basis of a system of normalizing the eye without the use of glasses," states Miss Margaret Lydiatt, graduate of the Corbett School of Eye Education in Los Angeles.

Miss Lydiatt is in Victoria paying a farewell visit to friends prior to leaving for Auckland, New Zealand, where she will establish a similar school.

The vibrant, dark-haired miss, who names Vancouver as her home city, became interested in the system which is entirely new to Victoria, through a close friend, Mrs. Marie Planta.

Mrs. Planta, suffering from eye-strain, attended the Corbett School in Los Angeles, founded and headed by Mrs. Margaret D. Corbett. Cured, she took a course of instruction and established a similar school in Vancouver.

It was there Miss Lydiatt encountered this system, originally founded by the late Dr. W. H. Bates in New York at the turn of the century. Her interest aroused to such an extent that she, too, took instruction at the Los Angeles School.

"This teaching follows the idea of complete relaxation," Miss Lydiatt states.

"Many doctors believe the relaxation method to be also helpful in the cure of heart and nervous ailments."

"It is the theory of the system that one's feelings or moods are expressed through the eyes. In fact, we have a saying: 'If you're mad, sad, or glad, or your shoe pinches, it shows in your eyes,' she says with a chuckle.

"An example of this theory is found by contrasting the clear, bright eyes of children having no cares or worries, to the glassy, strained gaze of adults at the end of a work day," she added.

tor prior to leaving for New Zealand. At present she is the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Shaw, at Cordova Bay. She plans to return to the mainland in a few weeks.

"After enjoying the summer months here I'll be arriving in the Antipodes just in time for summer there," Miss Lydiatt smiles, her flashing dark eyes a perfect advertisement for her new venture.

MANY CURES

"Thousands of persons in a year are benefited from the Eye Education Schools, where each person is given individual treatment. Many Hollywood personalities who are not in need of actual eye treatment, enroll for eye beautification."

Outstanding among those who have received benefit from the relaxation treatment is Aldous Huxley. It was through a book written by the prominent author, that a wealthy New Zealander, who had traveled the world in search of a cure for his almost total blindness, became interested. In appreciation for his renewed eyesight, he is backing the establishment of a similar eye school in New Zealand with Miss Lydiatt in charge.

The petite miss, with beautifully tanned skin, is visiting friends in Vancouver and Victor prior to leaving for New Zealand. At present she is the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Shaw, at Cordova Bay. She plans to return to the mainland in a few weeks.

"After enjoying the summer months here I'll be arriving in the Antipodes just in time for summer there," Miss Lydiatt smiles, her flashing dark eyes a perfect advertisement for her new venture.

NEW FIELD

"This will be my first trip to that part of the world and I'm certainly looking forward to beginning my work there. At present there is no other establishment of this sort 'down under', and I'll be practically a pioneer, I'll expect to establish the Eye Education School first, and later open a school to train New Zealand instructors."

Eagerly looking forward to her new undertaking, Miss Lydiatt already has her wardrobe in readiness.

"I think the new longer-length skirts are very smart, and several of my ensembles feature them," she says.

En route to New Zealand, I expect to stop over at the Fiji Islands and at Samoa, where I hope to add a few grass skirts for souvenirs."

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence C. Boyd entertained friends at a cocktail party on Monday evening at their home, 1296 Beach Drive.

Miss Gwendoline Harper, M.A., left today for Seattle, where she is a member of the music faculty at University of Washington.

Miss F. M. Langton, with her sister, Miss M. Langton, came to Victoria on Monday from Chelsea, London, England. They are staying at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel.

Admiral P. W. Nelles, retired chief of Canadian naval staff, and Mrs. Nelles, are staying at "Spencerwood," the Ardmore home of Mrs. J. W. Spencer. Admiral and Mrs. Nelles will later move to their new home, 620 St. Charles Street.

Mrs. J. V. Foster is a visitor from Exford, England, the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Baker, 2420 San Carlos Avenue. Mrs. Foster will be in Victoria until early in November, when she will travel to New York to embark for home on Nov. 11.

Mrs. Jeffery Arnold and her daughters, Misses Gloria and Diana Jeffery, Dewdney Avenue, are in Vancouver where they will attend the Adams Stott wedding which takes place tonight. While in the mainland city they will stay at the Vancouver Hotel.

Lady Vincent Jones and her daughter, Miss Barbara Vincent Jones, who have been guests at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel, have taken up residence at Bickerton Court, 218 Douglas Street, until the new year when they will move to their own home in Victoria. Sir Vincent Jones, at present in Toronto, will join them at Bickerton Court in November.

Mrs. Audrey Ruffel entertained 20 friends at her home, 3055 Rutland Road, Saturday evening, in honor of October bride-elect, Miss Bobby Murray. Corsage bouquets were presented to the honor guest and her mother, Mrs. Herbert Murray. Mrs. F. Hurley presided at the tea table, which was attractively appointed with mauve asters and tall white tapers. Miss Murray was presented with a set of stainless steel kitchenware.

P.T.A. News

Leechtown—Organization meeting of the Leechtown P.T.A. was held in the new schoolhouse. Mrs. L. Aubry, the new teacher, spoke of the advantages of a P.T.A. organization to both the school and the community. Officers elected were: Mrs. D. Joss, president; Mrs. O. Stanyer, vice-president; Mrs. E. Merry, secretary-treasurer. It was decided that regular meetings would be held the third Thursday of each month. Plans for a Halloween party for both children and parents were discussed. Mrs. G. Allen was named refreshment convener, and Mrs. L. Aubry, entertainment convener. Prizes will be awarded for best costumes. It was decided to have a Saturday work-party to level off the new school playground, and plan for the making of play equipment.

city, has announced a firm policy. He won't, despite several invitations, judge beauty contests.

His explanation: "I learned long ago that every woman was a queen—someone's queen. In the presence of royalty I am always a loyal subject, but never a judge."

Mardi Gras Spirit Prevails At Junior Auxiliary Fete

Spirit of Mardi Gras prevailed at the Crystal Garden Tuesday evening when the Junior Auxiliary to the Royal Jubilee Hospital sponsored a Gala Carnival with games of skill and chance, a water display, fashion revue and dance.

The "games room," decked with flags, bunting and flowers, was very popular with the more than 1,000 persons who attended and the call of the "barkers" advertising their various wares mingled with the laughter and excited shrieks of players throughout the evening.

Feature attraction was a swimming demonstration in the Crystal Pool given by "Y" swimming teams under the direction of their coach, Archie McKinnon.

Fall fashions, smart sportswear for women and the newest in the season's millinery were shown in the upper ballroom, the models appearing through a doorway from the lower balcony and circling the floor to a dais above the pool. Commentator, Mrs. Donald Simpson, gave the audience many interesting highlights on the new styles.

Mannequins were Mrs. P. H. Brown, Mrs. Gordon Abernethy, Mrs. Laurence Green, Mrs. F. G.

Women To Blame
For Political Failure

"From today's scores in the political field it is evident women are losing ground locally, provincially and nationally," Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., told members of the Women's Canadian Club at the Empress Hotel, Tuesday afternoon.

With this challenging statement, Mrs. Hodges gave figures showing that in the Canadian picture alone, among 20,000 elected representatives in Dominion, provincial and other fields of government there are only 56 women.

There is only one woman in 245 seats in the federal house, "she, sole survivor of more than 1,000 starters"; only seven other women in all provincial legislatures, two in British Columbia, "there were five until 1945," one in Saskatchewan, three in Alberta and one in Prince Edward Island.

In municipal and local governments, of which there are 4,100 in Canada, Mrs. Hodges said, there are only 46 women in 46 centres, "none in the other 4,054."

The United States has only seven women in 531 seats in Congress, she pointed out, and 56 women less in state legislatures than last year.

OWN FAULT

The onus for the failure of women in the political field was placed by the speaker squarely on the shoulders of the women themselves.

"In Canada, 52 per cent of the vote is controlled by women," she said, "and in the United States there are one million more potential voters than there are men."

"But in the years since the women of America have received the franchise," she challenged, "they have not exercised their right to vote to anywhere near its fullest extent."

"There is a great need to stimulate women's sense of responsibility in world affairs," Mrs. Hodges continued, "not only in the political world but socially and morally."

She spoke briefly of the International Assembly of Women, meeting in Paris this week. Sponsored by women of France and with representatives from many countries of the world, these women have met to discuss the responsibilities of women in world affairs.

"These women have thrown us a challenge to accept our wider responsibilities," she concluded.

"We, as Canadian women, can no longer retire into our homes and pull our personal worlds about us. We must study world issues, mobilize woman power as we did in the war, translate cause into action and accept our full status as world citizens."

Mrs. Kenneth Drury presided and thanked the speaker on behalf of members, following the address.

Following the speaker's address at Women's Canadian Club Tuesday afternoon, the president, Mrs. Kenneth Drury, presented the club's bursary winners, Sheila Doreen McDonough and Frederick Raymond Sims, to the members. Miss McDonough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. McDonough, 32 Howe Street, averaged 93.2 per cent in recent examinations and Mr. Sims, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Sims, 2238 Shakespeare Street, and a former Times carrier, averaged 91 per cent. Both students, now attending college, spoke briefly to the gathering.

Quick Dry Polish Is Easy To Apply

Women who have had to pull busy fingers out of action while nail polish dried will hail a new-comer which returns hands to jobs in record time.

This timing, say manufacturers, is a result of years of research and testing. Polish dries to a silken plasticity that clings to nails and raises odds against chipping or peeling.

What will be as welcome to those home manicurists who wield a wavering brush is a nail polish bottle which brings along a new type of long-handled applicator. For this, a detachable lucite "plume" comes packaged with the bottle. The gadget screws into the bottle cap, to which the brush is attached, for good grip and easy handling. Result is that the user has steady control over brush strokes. That goes whether the brush is stroked by right or left hand.

Fall Activities—Plans were discussed for fall events at the meeting of the Victoria District of Kings Daughters, held at headquarters, with Miss J. Roberts in the chair. Rooms treasurer reported that the business girl luncheon had been well attended during summer months. Circles reported active plans for the coming winter. Fellowship Circle plan a rummage sale, Oct. 18, at the Hard-of-Hearing Hall at 10.30. Ready-to-Help Circle is donating clothes to Britain. It was decided to hold a district bazaar Nov. 8 at the Y.W.C.A. when apron, handy needlework, home cooking and white elephant stalls will be featured.

Do include deodorants and breath fresheners for regular use. Fastidiousness is the first step toward attractiveness.

Capelets Double
A Formal's Duty*Rita Hayworth: Likes capelet.

Make your formal gown do double duty as a dinner dress by covering its bare top with a new, old-fashioned type of capelet.

This feminine accessory, which practical Parisiennes make such good use of, is as well liked by Hollywood Movie gals use it to get more wear out of their formal gowns.

Rita ("Down to Earth") Hayworth, for one, has cover-up capelets that take in many of the filmy fabrics from black nylon net to sheerest white organdy. One back-fastened capelet of white organdie, for instance, tops Rita's most de luxe formal—a strapless sequin-dotted gown of white faille. The addition of this capelet to her gown has more than doubled its usefulness, says the star.

You can whip up your own capelets, if you have bare-topped gowns to cover. A capelet, incidentally, makes pretty neckwear for dark daytime dresses, too. If you are handy with the needle, materials for this accessory may be forthcoming from your scrap bag. If not, rummage over the remnant counter for likely fabrics.

Plan Permanent
Consumer Group

OTTAWA (CP)—Women's organizations across the Dominion have been invited to send representatives to a meeting here Sept. 29-30 to organize a permanent Consumer Association, Mrs. R. J. Marshall, chairman of the interim committee, announced today.

The meeting follows a conference of representatives of more than 50 national women's organizations and French-speaking groups last April in Toronto, when the need and desirability of establishing a national peace-time organization were considered.

As tentatively outlined the purpose of the proposed organization is "to develop a more enlightened opinion on economic affairs and consumer interests and to express this opinion in such a way as to benefit the home, the community, and the nation."

C.C.F. Experiment Costs Dearly In Liberty, Money, B.C. Warned

British Columbians were warned Tuesday night by W. J. Patterson, Liberal opposition leader of Saskatchewan, that the people of Saskatchewan were paying dearly in money and liberty for the socialistic experiment of the C.C.F. government.

Introduced by H. P. Hodges, Mr. Patterson, for nine years premier of Saskatchewan, told the Laurier Club here that the prairie province's civil service since the C.C.F. came to power in 1944 had been increased by 50 per cent and that the cost of government had risen by 60 per cent.

Mr. Patterson said that the C.C.F. government had developed, to an extent unknown anywhere else in Canada, government by order-in-council. "Each and every session has seen legislation passed and become law of the province which extends and increases the power and authority of the cabinet minister and the government," he said.

IMPACT NOT SERIOUS
Mr. Patterson said that except where compulsion had been applied by the government the impact of government activities on business had not been serious. While between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 had been spent in these endeavors, not one cent of interest and not one dollar of profits had been extended the government, although the C.C.F. had promised profits from these undertakings would go toward extending social services.

The insurance business was cited as an example of a government undertaking which had enjoyed a gradual extension of compulsion. Without having to pay for advertising or agents' costs for selling its services, the government had required first that hospitals and schools and other bodies receiving provincial government grants would have to insure with the government. Next, truckers were required to insure their cargoes.

Likewise, the C.C.F. administration had required that holders of timber licenses on plots over a certain size were required to sell their products to the government at government-fixed prices; that licensees for fishing rights in a majority of northern lakes were required to market their fish through the government fish board; and that holders of trapping licenses must sell furs to the government agency.

Mr. Patterson admitted that the C.C.F. administration deserved praise for some of its social service undertakings, but added that improvement of crops and a general period of prosperity had been partially responsible for making these undertakings possible.

Since benefits under the Saskatchewan government's hospitalization scheme were contingent on whether or not a citizen had paid the charges for this service, "that was not Socialism in any way, shape or form," Mr. Patterson said.

He described the hospitalization scheme as probably being fundamentally sound, but added that it had resulted in centralization and said the government had rushed into the scheme with a result that the administration of it was hopelessly muddled.

Local autonomy had been sacrificed in the consolidation of school districts for previously the government had provided that consolidation could be effected on approval by vote of the ratepayers involved but now consolidation was at the discretion of the minister of education.

BLANKET LEGISLATION

While the telephone, power, liquor and farm loan services had previously been established by individual acts of the Legislature, business undertakings of the government now were provided for in blanket legislation, in which the elected representatives of the people had no direct say, he said, adding that when there has been a loss of the fundamental responsibilities of government, in which the Legislators have no say in what the government shall do and how money shall be spent, the people must be on the lookout for dictatorship.

Mr. Patterson said that today in Saskatchewan the economic planning and advisory board—what he called the back room boys—a body of men inexperienced in government and business, appointed by the government, was determining government policy, exercising more influence than the legislators themselves.

This was a serious situation, he suggested, adding that history showed that the highest standards of living had been attained in those countries where governments had exercised least control over its citizens.

Kiwianians Hear Of Convention

Proceedings of the 30th Pacific Northwest Kiwanis convention, held in Seattle last week, were recounted to members of the Victoria Kiwanis Club at Tuesday's meeting by the club's three convention delegates.

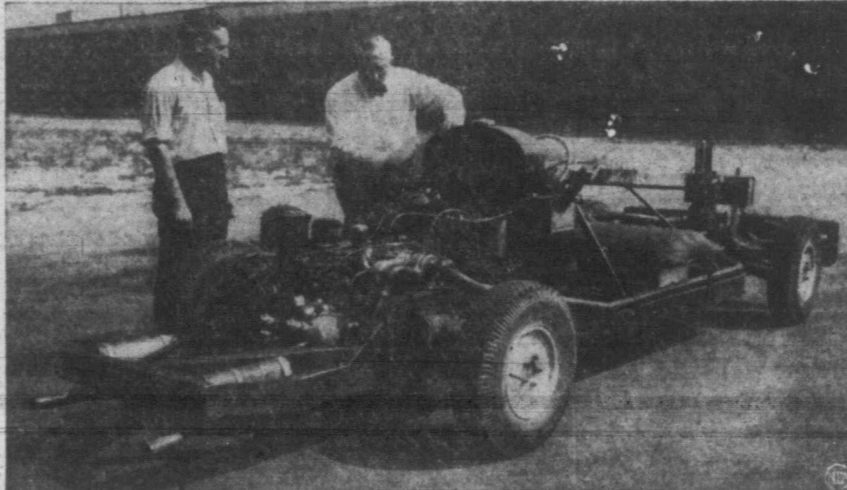

President Ralph Matthews reviewed the general organization and outlined the convention program. Andy Stewart reported on topics and findings brought forward at round table discussions of committee chairmen. He noted some clubs within the district were undertaking to establish key clubs in various high schools. Such clubs are sponsored and maintained by a Kiwanis club but are managed by boys in the club. One of the aims of a key club is to develop initiative and leadership.

Secretary Glen Hope said Victoria will be expected to play host to the district convention sometime within the next few years. He asked members to begin now to think of ways and means of accommodating up to 4,000 visitors.

Dr. A. McGill, chairman of the club's support-of-churches committee, announced it had been decided to send parcels to Britain as a Thanksgiving project. He asked all members with friends and relatives in Britain to send them parcels. Members without connections in the United Kingdom were asked to donate to the Mayor's Fund.

Entertainment at the meeting was provided by Hazel and William Turey who played a number of popular selections on their electric steel guitars.

The commercial art course scheduled to meet Tuesday and Thursday should be Monday and Wednesday evenings.

Fire Guts Craft At Todd Inlet

A 30-foot launch owned by P.O. James Trow was left a burned-out hull last evening by a fire which swept the craft while moored in Todd Inlet, below Butchart's Gardens. It is estimated by officials of the Saanich fire department, which attended to fight the fire along with Constable D. E. Anderson of Saanich Police, that damage amounted to $700.

An overturned burning gas lamp is reported to be responsible for the fire. The owner who was in the cabin at the time managed to escape unhurt. His efforts to quell the blaze with a fire extinguisher were futile.

A new course in radio script writing is scheduled for the Victoria evening classes.

Graziano Facing Exclusion From All Organized Boxing

PATERSON, N.J. (AP)—The National Boxing Association concurred Tuesday with the Illinois Athletic Commission in "rejecting any participant in boxing who has not fulfilled his trust to his country."

The action, announced by N.B.A. President Abe J. Greene, was in connection with the status of Rocky Graziano, middleweight champion.

Roy D. Keehn, Illinois commission member, said in Chicago that Illinois had accepted the War Department's record of Pte. Rocco Barbella as that of Graziano. The record showed Barbella was convicted, sentenced and dishonorably discharged from the army on a charge of being absent without leave in 1942.

Greene issued a statement saying the N.B.A. would "most certainly check thoroughly into the newly revealed circumstances involving Rocky Graziano" and added:

"Newspaper reports quote his manager as saying he has official papers to show that, in some manner, the boxer was cleared of a dishonorable discharge. We shall check with the War Department to get the true story of the entire matter."

3 Arrested After Wholesale Looting

WINNIPEG (CP)—Three men and a woman are being held in connection with the alleged looting of more than $2,000 worth of goods from retail stores and warehouses in Winnipeg, police said Tuesday.

Under arrest are Myron Rakowski, 23; William A. Jowett, 24; Elmer Roy Parsons, 31, and Ann Boss, 28. No charges have been laid.

Police said they had recovered more than $2,000 worth of wrist watches, electric shavers, carpenter's tools, sporting rifles, fishing tackle, silver plate, men's suits and electric motors. They said investigations had been under way for several months and that they believed admittance to the looted properties had been gained by use of proper keys.

Alberni Valley Art Group Elects Mrs. Rose Colpman

PORT ALBERNI—Mrs. Rose Colpman, well-known district artist, was elected president of the Alberni Valley Art Group when the organization began its fall and winter monthly meetings recently.

Other officers elected were A. Hutchinson, vice-president; Eileen Service, secretary and Mrs. Ray Joy, treasurer.

It was decided that classes in water color painting, tutored by Mrs. Colpman, would begin and be held the third Monday of each month. Mrs. Colpman will also give assistance to those interested in pastels, oils and drawing.

The group plans to exchange paintings with groups in the interior and other places. A further plan is to include art appreciation instruction.

Port Alberni Sends Liberal Delegates

PORT ALBERNI—Local delegates to the Liberal convention at Hotel Vancouver Thursday and Friday will be James Mowat, M.L.A., T. W. Christie, Dennis O'Brien, Max Wright and C. Burrip. Alex Sproat, well-known resident of Sproat Lake, will accompany the party as a guest member.

Complete Inspection For Mv. Machigonne

PORT ALBERNI—The motor vessel Machigonne was scheduled to undergo a complete inspection after running aground at Brooks Point a few miles west of Nahmint River in heavy fog. No injuries were reported.

The Gibson Brothers' Transportation Company vessel was on a scheduled run from Port Alberni to Zeballos when she ran aground.

The motor vessel Uchuck, dislodged the Machigonne after two attempts. An Indian troller struck the Uchuck while it was dislodging the grounded vessel. But no damage resulted.

The Machigonne, under command of Capt. Rorvik, returned to Port Alberni to discharge passengers and freight and will undergo inspection on the marine ways at Port Albion.

While no leaks were discovered it was feared the vessel might have suffered hull damage. Passengers en route up-coast were delayed until last night, when they left aboard Ss. Maquinna.

Company officials said they did not know how long the Machigonne would be laid up.

Suicide in Prison

MOUNT VERNON, Wash. (AP)—Mrs. Nola E. Wilson, 34, Sedro Woolley, who faced trial on a first degree murder charge in connection with the shooting of her husband last month, hanged herself in her cell at the Skagit County jail Monday night, Sheriff Harold Hinshaw announced Tuesday. She used a piece of drapery in her cell.

Art metal course at Victoria High School commences on Friday, Oct. 3.

T.L.C. Disapproves Mass Picketing Of Southam Buildings

HAMILTON (CP) President Percy Bengough of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada Tuesday cautioned Congress convention delegates against "mass picketing" of buildings of the Southam Newspapers Ltd. engaged in a labor dispute with the International Typographical Union.

His warning came after a Hamilton delegate had asked convention members to join the noon-hour picket line in front of the Hamilton Spectator.

The picketing was described as "peaceful" and as a protest to the company.

"This congress favors keeping within the law," President Bengough said, "and therefore cannot subscribe to mass picketing."

He said the situation was a difficult one. Members of one congress organization were picketing a firm where members of other congress-affiliated unions were working under agreements.

So far as the I.T.U. was concerned, President Bengough added, there was a strike on in the Southam newspapers. He said members should not buy the products of the firm, which were on "the unfair list."

More Railroaders Ask Pay Increase

WINNIPEG (CP)—Delegates representing 40,000 men employed in the motive power and car departments of all Canadian railways Tuesday voiced demands for an immediate wage increase of 34 cents an hour and provision for two weeks' holidays with pay.

The delegates are attending the convention of Division Four, Railroad Employees' Union.

"Our organizations plan to take strike action, if necessary, to establish the two weeks' holidays with pay awarded by a board of conciliation but rejected by the railways," said J. Bruce, secretary.

He said the union executive would open negotiations with the railways regarding the wage increase, which the union considered necessary.

State Ends Case In Overell Trial

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP)—The state wound up the first phase of final arguments in the Overell yacht deaths trial Tuesday with a bitter denunciation of the two accused collegians, but the latter's counsel came back quickly with a demand for their acquittal.

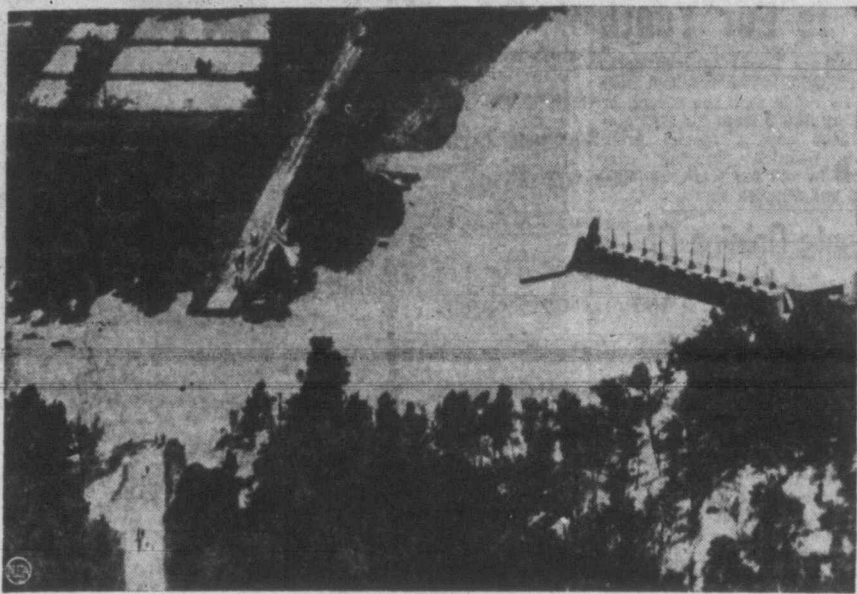

Henry A. Dietz, deputy Attorney-General, tossing aside the calm, soft-spoken manner in which he had outlined the state's case to the jury, thundered that love letters exchanged in jail between Louise Overell and George (Bud) Gollum were filled with "filth and perversion."

The heiress, 18, and her boy friend, 21, are in the 19th week of their trial on murder charges, in the deaths of her parents, financier and Mrs. Walter E. Overell, aboard their yacht in Newport harbor March 15.

Film Horror Scene Blamed For Death

LONDON (AP)—Dozens of film exhibitors cut from a British newsreel Tuesday a "horror" sequence supposedly showing a man being run through with a sword.

Their action followed the death of a theatre manager after he had viewed the scene at a private screening and reports of numerous cases of nausea and fainting among persons who have seen it.

Alfred Baylis of Chesterfield, Derbyshire, collapsed Monday after viewing the film and deciding not to run it in his theatre. He died about three hours later.

You know, we claim that Johns-Manville Rock Wool Insulation can save up to 30 per cent of your fuel. But here's a letter from one satisfied J-M customer which indicates how conservative that claim is. It reads, "Three years ago, we had our eight-room house insulated with Johns-Manville Rock Wool. Previously, we used 10 tons of coal a year. Now we use only six tons—a fuel saving of 40 per cent! Besides, our house is warmer, with fewer drafts in winter, and comfortably cool in summer!"

If your home is not already insulated, find out about this comfort that pays for itself in a few years of fuel saving. Ask your nearest J-M dealer for free folder on Johns-Manville Rock Wool Home Insulation. Or contact Canadian Johns-Manville, 1206 Homer Street, Vancouver.

Pakistan, Yemen Admitted To U.N.

NEW YORK (AP)—Yemen and Pakistan were accepted as members of United Nations Tuesday with Afghanistan alone voting against admission of Pakistan at this time. This increased the roll to 57 countries.

The newcomers both are Moslem Asiatic countries, both are sworn enemies of Zionism in Palestine, and Pakistan is involved in bloody communal strife with Hindu India.

Observers were expecting a Pakistan appeal to the U.N. general assembly for intervention to stop Indian border hostilities if a current move for British mediation falls through.

Seattle Sells 2 Pro Basketball

SEATTLE (AP)—Sale of two players and release of a third was announced Tuesday by officials of the Seattle entry in the Pacific Coast Professional Basketball League.

Allen Maul, high-scoring centre, was sold to the Bellingham Firecrackers; Sig Sigurdson, now playing pro football with the Baltimore Colts, was purchased by the new Tacoma quintet; and Ernie Maskovich was released outright to the Vancouver, B.C. team.

Alexander Bowing Out Of Saanich Council; Says Cry Is For Youth

Councillor Thomas Alexander, one of Saanich's strongest champions of the need to impress upon ratepayers that the only way they can get improved services such as better and more roads, lighting, sewers and many other things "is by local improvement," told Saanich Council at its meeting last night he would not be standing for re-election this year.

Councillor Alexander, a veteran of five consecutive years experience as the Ward 1 council member, in making his announcement that he would not run again for a seat on the administrative group, stressed that the cry today was for younger men to take the seats of older individuals in municipal government.

The councillor pointed out that being a working man he was unable to devote the time to municipal affairs as a person who is on the retired list, but that he had endeavored to do his best for Ward 1 ratepayers during his term in office.

"During the balance of my term I will endeavor to continue to do what I can to instill in people the need of the projects that are at present being shaped," he mentioned such matters as the new sewerage system proposed, street lighting and water supply improvements needed and other things.

REEVE VOICES PRAISE
Reeve E. C. Warren said he was sorry to hear of Councillor Alexander's decision. He thought it an unfortunate time for the councillor to drop out of the picture.

"While I feel young people should be encouraged to take over the reins of municipal government, it is extremely necessary for older hands to stay in municipal office at the present time to train and guide younger members qualifying for the council."

The reeve lauded the fine way in which Councillor Alexander has given sound advice to the council on the sewerage survey. He considered this advice of paramount importance.

Later in the evening when a letter was read from Ward 4 Ratepayers' Association, charging that the conditions of roads in their area was deteriorating steadily and that the $12,000 yearly road appropriation this year "has been wasted," Councillor Alexander again rose to state his oft-repeated expression "sooner or later we have got to educate people that all improvements can only be secured under local improvement arrangement."

In answer to this charge from the ratepayers, however, the general opinion of the council was that the ward appropriation this year has brought a marked improvement in the roads. Reeve Warren noted that all the appropriation had gone toward roads in 1947 and not used for lighting as well as in previous years. All considered the money allowed far below what is required to maintain existing and making new roads.

Wants Opinion Of Saanich Voters On Important Matters

With the challenge that "we are supposed to represent the ratepayers, but how are we going to represent them if we do not know how they feel or want on these matters?" Councillor Leslie Passmore at last night's meeting of Saanich Council gave notice of motion to three matters which he intends to bring up at the next meeting of Saanich Council for presentation to the ratepayers at the next election.

His motions are to find out if ratepayers favor formation of a committee from Saanich Council to investigate the possibility of drawing up terms and conditions under which an amalgamation of the urban area of Saanich with the City of Victoria might be acceptable to both districts . . . a city manager plan of administration for Saanich . . . abolition of the ward system in Saanich.

The councillor has been a strong advocate of wiping out ward boundaries in Saanich. Although Saanich Council twice voted against abolition of the present ward setup, Councillor Passmore served warning that he would continue to press for the elimination of the system at every opportunity.

Councillor E. C. Cummins pointed out that the council had turned down an amalgamation plan earlier "and since then we haven't had anybody come before us to protest our decision, have we?"

"Maybe not the council but they have approached me on the matter," commented Councillor Passmore.

Saanich To Pay For Survey Of Proposed Gorge Canal Project

Saanich Council members, strong proponents of the project, took action at Tuesday night's meeting to expedite matters in bringing about a survey of the land between Esquimalt Harbor and Thetis Cove of Portage Inlet—proposed site of the canal to give the Gorge waters circulation—for the purpose of determining the approximate cost of such a venture for presentation to Ottawa.

After H. D. Dawson, municipal engineer, had given his opinion such a survey would cost in the neighborhood of $250, the council unanimously moved a motion for Saanich to provide this money and that Mr. Dawson contact the engineers of Victoria and Esquimalt for a three-man collaboration on the survey.

It was learned at the meeting that the Victoria and Portage Inlet Improvement Association, an organization formed to fight for an Ottawa-financed canal project, was near its objective of having a 5,000-name petition forwarded to Ottawa urging government action of the undertaking.

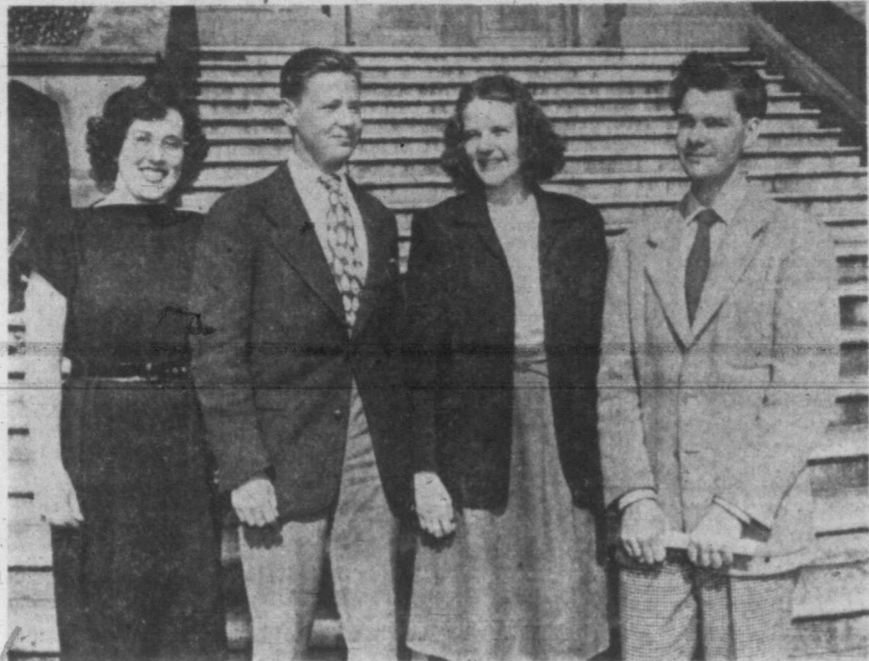

ADVISES IMMEDIATE ACTION
Alf Duplain, member of the association, told the council that following a recent tour of the Gorge waters by an official party to look over the situation, Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., M.P., a member of the group, strongly advised that efforts be made to get an approximate cost on the canal task so that it could be presented to Ottawa within a short time—in time for the setting of the new estimates, to take place shortly.

The need for such a canal to provide Gorge and inlet water with circulation has long been recognized by the three municipalities and Councillor Len Hobbs, a member of the tour party, expressed the opinion "it is the responsibility of every citizen, municipal council and government to lend support to the drive to have the canal pushed through." Present conditions in the Gorge are considered unhealthy and it is believed the canal would greatly beautify the entire district.

Reeve E. C. Warren, who noted the council's previous stands backing the move, made the motion that Saanich take the initiative in the matter by providing survey funds.

Mr. Dawson said that a canal of the type planned would result in a four-foot rise over the present low water mark, the canal gates being operated to coincide with tides.

Plan Dramatic Program For Victoria College

The executive of Victoria College Players' Club executive have an ambitious program mapped out for the coming term. Left to right are Marilynne Berry, secretary; Ron Wilson, president; Anna Wooten, business manager; and Victor Mitchell, vice-president. The year's program will include three one-act plays to be presented before Christmas, and the production of a three-act play in the spring.

No Saanich Action On Offer Of City

No action "was taken by Saanich Council at its meeting last night in regard to Victoria's offer to handle fires should it be necessary at the new Victoria Veterans' Hospital, which is Saanich territory, at a cost to the northside municipality.

Reeve E. C. Warren told the council the D.V.A. at Ottawa had been written to asking for financial aid to establish a firehall on Shelbourne Street, providing closer equipment from Saanich in the event of fire. "If D.V.A. thinks our protection is inadequate they should have answered, long ago," he said. A D.V.A. response is still awaited.

Water Supply Survey In Brentwood Area

Following the reading of two letters from Brentwood district at last night's meeting bringing up the acute state of the water situation and the resultant dangerous sanitary and danger from fire conditions, Saanich Council will notify the Brentwood Women's Institute that everything possible is being done to speed the survey necessary before shaping a by-law.

The other letter was from Mrs. John Bredin. This and the letter from the institute pointed to the Brentwood college fire as an example of what water shortage conditions can result in. The suggestion of Councillor W. E. Kersey that council and Saanich Board of Trade meet at Brentwood to get an exact idea of what residents of the district want and how the plan should be paid for, was considered "good business." A letter of thanks to the women's institute offering its help will be sent by this council.

Saanich Briefs

Councillor George Rudd reported to Saanich Council Tuesday night progress on the construction of the new Saanich firehall on East Saanich and Sayward Roads was progressing well. There was only one bid to do the plastering, from K. Hems-worth, for $1,058. This was accepted. A council member asked F. S. Green, comptroller, if this bid was under the estimates submitted earlier. He replied: "We are going to be under the estimates all round."

Councillor John Oliver and municipal clerk John Tribe will represent Saanich at the meeting with the Public Utilities Commission on Monday morning at 10 in the commission's Central Building offices on the transportation franchise matter.

The council heard an irate taxpayer in the Elk Lake district speak of the action of the administrative group six years ago in a sewerage scheme which had made cesspools of parts of his property "which I paid $1,100 an acre for." He spoke of the havoc done to formerly good crop land by the drainage condition. The damaged property used to produce $160 annually in hay and clover. He wanted the council to pay the sum the property formerly yielded if the situation could not be otherwise rectified. The council promised to give the matter consideration.

Saanich Rejects Plan For Slaughter-House

Saanich Council turned "thumbs down" on the application of E. Cunningham, proprietor of the Saanich Meat Market, to establish a slaughter-house on 33 acres of Section 17, Range 5 East, Burbridge Road. At the meeting Tuesday night unanimous decision to refuse the application came after the council had heard representations protesting the move from ratepayers in the district, 20 of whom attended the council meeting.

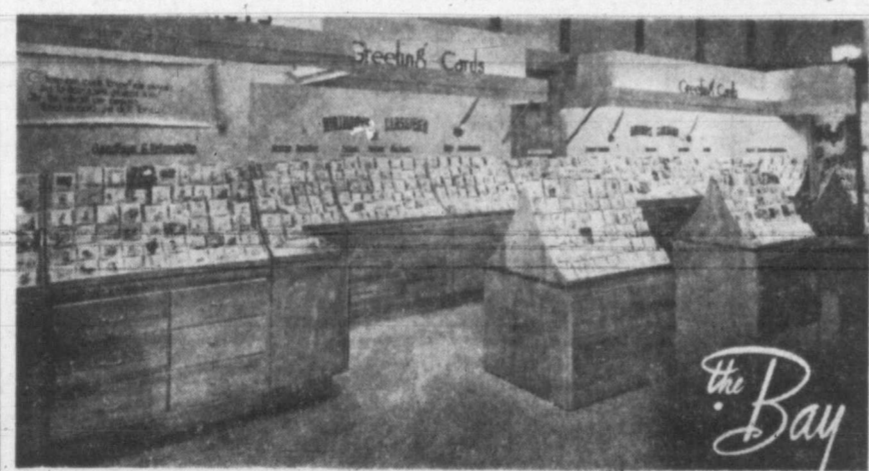

W. Hibbertson, Capt. M. Massey Goolden and H. L. English spoke for the petitioners. The petitioners suggested there were many more places in Saanich that would be suitable for this type of enterprise, that in their locality unsanitary conditions feared from such a scheme would lead to a deterioration of a fine residential district. Councillors John Oliver and Len Hobbs supported the petitioners.

Seeks Laurels At Dog Show

Alberstan Silver Glo, champion English cocker spaniel owned by Quandalla Kennels, will seek further honors at the Victoria City Kennel Club exhibition at the Bay Street Armories Saturday. With almost 200 canines on the entry list, 40 breeds are listed in the six groups which include toys, terriers, working, sporting and non-sporting dogs. With two rings in operation, judges will commence their task at 10.

Many Coast League Hockey Clubs Affiliate With Eastern Squads

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Pacific Coast Hockey League, from the defending champion Los Angeles Club on down, will be "much stronger" in the season beginning Oct. 21, predicts League President G. A. Leader.

All the southern division clubs and two of those in the northern sector—Tacoma and Portland—have working agreements or are owned by clubs of the American League, he pointed out.

The Vancouver, B.C., Canucks open training about Oct. 8 in Vancouver with their new coach, Neil Colville, former New York Ranger star.

The New Westminster Royals will have most of last year's club back and begin training at home early next month. The Royals have a working agreement with the Boston Bruins of the National League.

The San Diego Skyhawks open the season with an almost complete new team and new ownership.

The Forsyth brothers, half owners with the Buffalo Hockey Club, will select the San Diego coach and personnel of the team from the several dozen players trying out for Buffalo of the American League at Barrie, Ont., Leader said.

Johnny Polich has all his last year's champions available at Los Angeles and has been on a scouting trip for Monarch recruits.

The Fresno Falcons, under which new coach Bob Gracie, are training in Port Arthur, Ont.

MUCH MATERIAL

The Oakland Oaks, under new owner Eddie Shore and coach Tony Hemmerling, have 30 prospects at their camp in Saskatchewan, with a first-class club in prospect.

San Francisco Shamrocks, tied up with the Cleveland Barons under a recent deal, will have Les Cunningham as coach. They are training in Winnipeg until Oct. 3 when they move to Minneapolis for conditioning games with the Minneapolis Millers of the U.S. League.

Tacoma, in the northern division, is allied with the Providence, R.I., Reds this year. Coach Dave Downie plans to obtain several players at Granby, Que., training camp, to add to last year's holdovers. Training opens in Tacoma Oct. 6.

Jimmy Ward and his northern division champion Portland Eagles will train at home beginning Oct. 8. Portland has a working agreement with the Philadelphia Rockets.

The Seattle Ironmen begin workouts early next month, with goalie Ron Pickell and forwards Roy McBride and Maurice Duffy, stars of last year's club, on hand.

Burrards Drop First Game Of Boxla Final

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP)—St. Catharines Athletics today looked confidently forward to the second game of the Canadian Junior Lacrosse championships after trouncing Vancouver Burrards, western Canada titleholders, 10 to 3, in the opening tilt of the best-of-five series.

Showing accuracy and fast-paced stick-handling ability, which more than offset the greater weight and height of the westerners, the eastern Canada champions led all the way from their 5 to 1 at the end of the first quarter to 7 to 2 at half-time and 8 to 3 at the close of the third.

Unearned Run Gives Milwaukee Victory

The Little World Series moves to Milwaukee's Borchert Field tonight, where Milwaukee Brewers of the American Association begin their final bid to overcome the 2 to 1 lead of Syracuse Chiefs of the International League in the best-of-seven series.

The Brewers, previously trailing by two games, took the final series contest at Syracuse last night, 4 to 3, by way of an unearned run in the 10th inning.

Howie Fox took over pitching duties for Syracuse in the 10th and was tagged with the loss after an error, a sacrifice, an infield hit and an infield out gave the Brewers their winning run.

Angels, Acorns Triumph In Coast League Playoffs

Los Angeles and Oakland were top dogs today in the first stage of the post season Pacific Coast League Governor's Cup playoffs as the aftermath of some mighty fancy baseball and heroics last night.

The pennant-winning Angels downed third-place Portland, 2 to 1, in a stubborn, 11-inning thriller and fourth-place Oakland topped second-spot San Francisco, 2 to 0, on the two-hit pitching of Will Hafez.

Leftfielder Clarence Maddern was the Angel hero again last night. Eddie Sauer was on first base with a single in the last of the 11th, there were two out and the count was 3 and 2 on Maddern when he singled. Sauer raced all the way from first, sliding and scoring as Beaver catcher Charley Silveira dropped Danny Escobar's throw-in.

PITCHERS DUEL

The game had been tied 1 to 1 from the third inning, as Portland pitcher Tommy Bridges moved down the Angels regularly, getting 14 strikeouts in all. Bob McCall, starting for Los Angeles, retired in the eighth with a blistered finger. The old reliable Jess Dobernic won the ball game, the 56th appearance for him this year. The Angels got seven hits and Portland six.

It was Maddern who on Monday night walloped a grand slam homer in the eighth to bust wide open a scoreless tie, won by the Angels, 5 to 0, over San Francisco to give Los Angeles the P.C.L. pennant.

Portland scored in the first inning last night on Escobar's single and Dick Wenner's double. Los Angeles tied it in the third on Lou Stringer's double and Ed Malone's single.

Hafez's stellar pitching for the Oakland victory was in a game scoreless until the first of the ninth. The Oaks got their runs then with two out as Dario Lodigiani singled, Bill Ramondini doubled and Hafez tripled to deep right.

San Diego Padres Buy Tacoma Club

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Bill Starr, president of the San Diego Baseball Club of the Pacific Coast League, Tuesday announced outright purchase of the Tacoma Club of the Western International League.

The Tacoma outfit, the announcement said, will serve as a San Diego farm for developing players. The purchase price was not disclosed.

Starr's office said no announcement was ready concerning reports James "Rip" Collins would be retained for a second year as San Diego manager.

Hockey Training Notes

The accent that Detroit Red Wings put on youth last season paid off by taking the Wings to the Stanley Cup final, so manager Jack Adams went into insuring for the future in a big way. He's built up a whole team of potential rookies in the Detroit-sponsored Windsor Spitfires, who'll play in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A division this season.

Managing director Conn Smythe, whose Maple Leafs were the surprise packet of the Stanley Cup playoffs last season, has gone on record as picking Toronto to finish "no worse than third" this time. He said Leafs plan on starting the campaign with more reserves than last season. Montreal Canadiens, he added, "will be more of a powerhouse than they were last year."

Gaye Stewart, Leafs' right-winger from Port William, Ont., who was a bit of a disappointment last year, is really flying in the workouts at St. Catharines, Ont., Smythe noted. He also had a word of praise for Bobby Daves, Saskatoon youngster lined up with Pittsburgh Hornets. Smythe said Daves had "every chance" of graduating to the Leafs in a year.

Pete Morin of Montreal Royals of the Quebec Senior Hockey League left Montreal last night to report to the New York Rangers' training centre at Lake Placid, New York. This will be the second time the starry pivot man has entered professional ranks. He played with Canadians three years ago.

Chicago Black Hawks break their Regina training camp for a series of western Canada exhibition games before starting the N.H.L. schedule in Detroit Oct. 15. They will play exhibitions with Kansas City Pla-Mors, their United States Hockey League farm team, in Moose Jaw and Regina. The tour will also take Hawks to Saskatoon, Calgary, Edmonton and Winnipeg.

Oak Bay High School Athletes Prepare For Winter Campaign

With the weather heralding signs of fall, scenes around the various high schools are quickly changing from summer sports to rugby and basketball in preparation for the coming inter-high school sports program. Last year's program was one of the most successful in the history of the association and it is hoped that this year's activities will be as much of a success, if not greater.

English rugby sessions are beginning to fit their stride at Oak Bay High, as the lads from the east side have always gone in for their rugged games in a big way. Boys will enter three teams in the interhigh program, a senior A squad, senior B, and a junior entry.

Hampered by the fact that most of last year's stalwarts have graduated from the ranks, the senior A squad, under the coaching of Hugh Farquhar, are beginning to line up for the forthcoming campaign. Although the line-ups are indefinite as yet, some 20 boys are turning out to each practice. Dave Whittingham is tentative choice for full-back with Gerry Main, Denny Wells and Bob Hutchison playing on the three-quarter line. Derek Aylard has been picked as scrum half, and Johnny Foote will be probably placed at the five-eighths position. Seeking forward berths on the squad are Rod Fraser, Phil Matson, Peter Evans, John Jeffrey, Johnny Johnson and John Olsen.

Ernie Costain is handling the senior B squad, and while he could list no names as yet, he stated that between 25 and 30 boys are turning out regularly for practice sessions. The same is true of the junior squad, which is composed mainly of grades 9 and 10, operating under the eye of Charlie Gibbard, team coach. On the basketball court, practices have not yet hit full swing, but the senior squad is shaping up nicely with Harry Norman, Ronnie McLeod, Duncan Tolson, Dave Paterson, Bruce Auchinclove and Phil Matson expected to form the nucleus of the squad. The junior cage squad, handled by Jack Wallace, is an unknown quantity as yet.

Mrs. Gordon Verley Captures Qualicum Beach Golf Title

Mrs. Gordon Verley captured the women's championship in the first annual tournament of the Qualicum Beach Golf Club with Jack Egger capturing the men's honors. Mrs. D. Davidson and Gordon Verley were medal winners.

In the women's section, Mrs. Mary Denny won first flight honors and Mrs. Alice Herbert and Mrs. Goodman won the par competition. Low hidden hole honors went to Doreen S. Germain while Doris Bourke captured the high hidden-hole competition.

Fraser MacIntosh and Harry Clarke won the men's par competition with Gordon Verley winning the first flight championship. Filmer and Lewin captured the men's low and high hidden-hole competitions respectively.

Mrs. Molly Buckingham and Dick Hodgson won the mixed foursomes with Mrs. Violet Good and Ed Forst runner-ups.

St. Michaels Puck Squad Will Not Be De-emphasized

TORONTO (CP)—All that talk about de-emphasis that sprang up after Toronto St. Michael's Majors won the Canadian Junior Hockey title last spring appeared today to come under the category of throwing dust in an opponent's eyes.

Where and how it started, nobody seems to know. But one thing is certain, they haven't any intention of letting the crown pass into other hands without a struggle, even though they face a tremendous rebuilding job. Of last season's title team only the sub-goalie is back.

Rev. Hugh Mallon, athletic director at the college, came out quickly with this retort when asked whether there was any basis to the de-emphasis chatter: "De-emphasis? If de-emphasis means that we'll not be having as good a team as last season, then I guess we're de-emphasizing. But then, we haven't expected to have a team like the 1947 champions. You don't get teams very often like that one."

The de-emphasis rumor wasn't the only one about St. Mike's that made the rounds. There was even talk that the collegians might drop out of junior "A" hockey altogether. Another item to pop out of the rumor mill was that coach Joe Primeau might switch to Toronto Marlboros of the Ontario Hockey Association senior circuit.

Primeau is still on the job as the double-blue started practices this week. He had 20 players going their paces in a practice yesterday, the majority of them moved up from St. Michael's junior "B" club.

"Think you have the makings of a championship team?" Primeau was asked.

"I'm looking for a well-balanced club that will give a good account of itself," he replied.

"But will you retain the Memorial Cup this year?" Joe just smiled.

Bob Chesnes Tops P.C.L. Pitchers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Rookie Bob Chesnes of San Francisco was the Pacific Coast League's leading pitcher for the season of 1947 which ended last Sunday.

Chesnes compiled a won and lost record of 22 wins against 8 losses (percentage of .733) and was followed by Cliff Chambers of Los Angeles who won 23 and lost 9 (percentage .719).

The two were the only pitchers in the Coast League to win 20 or more games. Both have been sold to the major leagues, Chesnes to Pittsburgh Pirates and Chambers to Chicago Cubs of the National League.

Chambers led the league in strikeouts, rolling up 164.

SOCER PRACTICE

Y.M.C.A. soccer squad of the juvenile soccer league will hold a workout at Victoria High School grounds tonight at 5:15.

By "SONNY" WALKER

VICTORIA UNITED came up with a smart performance in the opening game of the Pacific Coast Soccer League schedule last week and if they improve on their first start will be a squad to watch for the balance of the season. Undoubtedly, Nanaimo suffered from lack of practice as they tied noticeably under the speed of the Victoria attack. This is due to the fact the up-Island eleven is composed of Nanaimo and Vancouver players, making team practices rather difficult. However, the Nanaimo eleven have a number of top-flight soccer stars on their roster and will round into form as the season progresses.

IAN MCKAY, the lanky goalkeeper of Nanaimo, was probably the individual star of the first game. On several occasions he came far out of his net to pluck loose balls out of the air and rob Victoria forwards of many scoring opportunities. He had little chance on the drives that beat him as Victoria controlled play during most of the game. George Forbes, United's new centre half, played his position almost perfectly and should prove a valuable addition to the squad. Andy Anderson worked well in his first Pacific Coast League start, playing half the match and setting up some nice plays. Lou Heppenthal and Ab Travis provided the scoring punch in the game, the latter getting a flying start in his bid to regain team scoring honors.

AFTER many false attempts, the Victoria and District Basketball Association finally elected an executive for the season. The league has secured the high school gymnasium for league and exhibition games during the season and will in all probability continue their policy of bringing in American squads for exhibition tilts on Saturday nights. One bright note emitting from the meeting was the motion that an injured players' fund be set up in the association. Numerous teams with limited financial backing often find themselves unable to take care of players' injuries during the year, and the new policy should prove a boon to the sport in this respect.

ALTHOUGH the handling of the fund is strictly in the hands of the new executive, it was proposed that all proceeds from the first senior A game of the season be used to start the injured players' fund. Under the plan, referees and officials would be asked to donate their services on that particular night so as to cut expenses to a minimum. George Gordon, retiring secretary; and Bert Simpson, vice-president, who has since left the city, deserve a vote of thanks from hoop patrons for their contribution to the sport during the past season.

A TRAGEDY of the hunting season took place over the week-end when some hunter who shot before he looked, wounded a doe deer. The deer was chased into the fishing waters of Saanich Inlet by the hunter's dog, where it was picked up by J. C. McPherson.

Bob Chesnes Tops P.C.L. Pitchers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Rookie Bob Chesnes of San Francisco was the Pacific Coast League's leading pitcher for the season of 1947 which ended last Sunday.

Chesnes compiled a won and lost record of 22 wins against 8 losses (percentage of .733) and was followed by Cliff Chambers of Los Angeles who won 23 and lost 9 (percentage .719).

The two were the only pitchers in the Coast League to win 20 or more games. Both have been sold to the major leagues, Chesnes to Pittsburgh Pirates and Chambers to Chicago Cubs of the National League.

Chambers led the league in strikeouts, rolling up 164.

Dodgers Will Be Tough To Beat-Bucky Harris

NEW YORK (AP)—"They'll be tough to beat. They got the speed."

This was the considered opinion of manager Bucky Harris as his victorious New York Yankees prepared to take on Brooklyn Dodgers today in the second game of the World Series.

"You saw them yesterday," Bucky said. "Did they quit when Ralph Branca, starting pitcher, folded in the fifth? By gosh, they came back fighting mad and almost caught us, didn't they? Don't think I wasn't scared stiff when the first batter walked in the ninth and that Edwards guy, who can beat your brains out any time, came up to bat."

Harris said the turning point of the game came with pinch-hitter Bobby Brown at bat with the bases loaded in the hectic fifth which saw the Yankees score all their runs in their 5 to 3 victory.

"Imagine the spot the kid was in?" Harris asked. "Here was a kid in his first year in the big leagues, being sent up to bat with the bases loaded and 73,000 fans looking on."

BRANCA NERVOUS

"Why, I could see his face as white as chalk. His heart must have beat a mile a minute, but his eyes were clear and that base on balls that he drew set up the stage for Tommy Henrich's two-run single which proved eventually to be the winning runs."

After what happened to Branca yesterday, nobody can blame "mysterious" Barney Shotton for sticking to his policy of keeping his pitching choices secret. Shotton's theory apparently is to name his starter just before the game but keep fireman Hugh Casey warmed up. Barney wouldn't say a word before yesterday's game, but one look at Branca was enough for the reporters, who immediately gathered around him on the bench.

The manager finally called Ralph to the other end of the dugout, asked the scribes to let him alone and then lightened the proceedings by taking someone's topcoat off a hook and tossing it over Branca so the pitcher was completely hidden.

In the fifth inning you wondered if that coat wasn't over Ralph's head again. No matter how he tried to "aim" his pitches, he couldn't find the plate.

RUFFING IN YANK GARB

The big guy with no number on his back who pitched Yankee batting practice yesterday was Red Ruffing—and the uniform was the same one he wore when he was a Yank. When someone asked if he had any trouble getting into the suit, Red countered: "If I took off 15 pounds now I could get into Rizzuto's uniform."

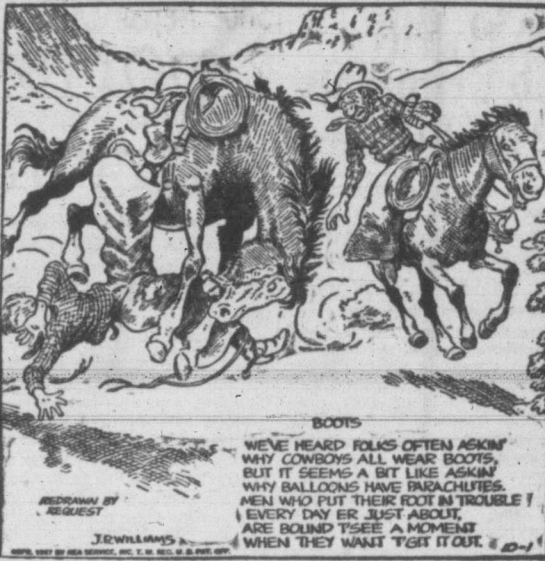

Another Red, Yankee secretary Patterson, explained Ruffing's presence: "When we invited the old timers for the first two games of the series, he took us seriously."

Joe Page, ace relief pitcher of the New York Yankees, who saw action in the opening game of the 1947 World Series yesterday against the Brooklyn Dodgers, awaits the call of manager Bucky Harris at bullpen gate. He grips the ball, winds up, lets go and another fire is put out. Page has been one of the stars of the Yankee team this season, saving numerous games for the club in relief performances.

Y.M.C.A. Swimmers To Open Season With Gala October 18

Winter program of the Y.M.C.A. swimming squad will open today under the guidance of coach Archie McKinnon. As he has lost both Peter and Ina Salmon from this year's team, McKinnon will spend considerable time coaching swimmers just under the senior age limit. Making the jump to the senior ranks is Eric Jubb, who appears to be the standout on the team at present. Other strong contenders on the squad are Barry Caviness, Ray Jubb and Stan Porter, with Bill Patey returning from England to participate on the junior squad. Joan Morgan is the likely choice to top the women aquatic stars with Nita Anderson returning to the ranks after a two-year layoff. McKinnon hopes to hold one swimming gala a month, and Jim Rendall of the Vancouver Y.M.C.A. swimming association has already requested a home-and-home series with the local team. Opening gala of the season has tentatively been set for Oct. 18.

W.A.C. COMING
Although the date has not been confirmed, Oct. 25 will see the Washington Athletic Club, coached by Ray Daughters, engage McKinnon's squad in what appears to be the highlight of the winter campaign. Al Patnik, famous diving star of the Pacific northwest, has been requested to perform at the affair. It was also hoped that both Peter and Ina Salmon will make an appearance on the Victoria squad at this gala.

Also seeking competition against McKinnon's proteges is the U.B.C. squad, coached by Doug Whitten, and built up of stars from the Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club. Possibilities point to Eric Jubb and Gordie Lawrence for the 1948 Canadian Olympic squad and it is hoped that Salmon will find time for the Olympic competition next year.

List Opening Games In Juvenile Soccer

Victoria and District juvenile footballers will open their season's campaign Saturday with all divisions seeing action. The schedule calls for games to start at 1, with the exception of Division One matches which get under way at 2.30. Schedule follows:

DIVISION ONE
Easles vs. Marigold, Heywood Avenue; Heathers vs. Esquimalt Mead, Beacon Hill.

DIVISION TWO
Esquimalt Terriers vs. Quarter Cab, Victoria West Park; Jubilee Pharmacy vs. Blackburn Rovers, Windsor Park.

DIVISION THREE
Elks vs. Pacific Mead, Heywood Avenue.

DIVISION FOUR
T.A.C. vs. St. Louis College, Beacon Hill; Esquimalt Rovers vs. Fairbridge, Farm, Bullen Park.

DIVISION FIVE
Esquimalt vs. Burnside, Central Park; Balmoral Thistles vs. Y.M.C.A., Victoria High School.

Commissioner Apps Plans Schools For Athletic Coaches

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP) —The boys who felt so badly when Syl Apps slapped a 2 per cent tax on senior football in Ontario, can quit their moaning for the new hockey-playing Provincial Athletic Commissioner says the money will go back into rugby to help minor leagues. In between taking his regular turn with Toronto Maple Leafs in training for the coming National Hockey League season, the team captain picks away with two fingers on typewriters of sports scribes, keeping up with his chores as commissioner. The Leafs' captain is proving himself anything but a figurehead in his new government post and at the moment is planning several schools for coaches.

"I hope to devise a system whereby we can run schools for coaches in hockey, football and baseball," said Apps, who turned out with the Leafs again this year after once deciding to hang up his skates for keeps. "By teaching them the finer points of the game we can improve the lot of the athletes in their charge. Most of the minor coaches are good fellows who had coaching jobs palmed off on them because others were too busy. They lack inside knowledge of sport in most cases. If we can retain these good fellows and teach them what their particular branch of sport is all about then we'll have real coaches for the young athletes."

Hockey Hall Of Fame To Benefit From Leafs, Royals Match

MONTREAL (CP) — For the first time in hockey history the Stanley Cup champions and Allan Cup champions will meet when Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Royals play in Kingston, Ont., Oct. 15, under auspices of the Hockey Hall of Fame. Leafs won the professional title last season in the final series against Montreal Canadiens, and Montreal's Royals of the Quebec Senior Hockey League won out in the amateur finals against Calgary Stampede.

Total receipts will go towards building International Hockey Hall of Fame shrine at Kingston, it was announced from National Hockey League headquarters today. Capt. James T. Sutherland of Kingston, president of the hall of fame organization, already has $50,000 in the fund and hopes to increase this to $100,000 before erection of the shrine to hockey's greats has started. Latest contribution was $500 from the Boston Garden Club, home of the Bruins of the National Hockey League. If present plans materialize, building of the new edifice will start next spring.

Blue Austerity Laws Hit Britons Today; Many Bans

LONDON (CP)—The battle of winter begins today in Britain with a host of new regulations designed to strengthen the government's hand in the economic struggle.

From this day until further notice citizens may not:

Obtain gasoline for non-essential driving;

Travel in non-sterling areas for anything but business purposes;

Change jobs in most professions without notifying labor officials who can direct them to essential work.

In addition, the Post Office henceforth has power to open letters and parcels bound for foreign parts if they are suspected of containing pound notes or valuables.

COAL PRICE UP

Adding to the drain on threadbare purses was a rise in the price of coal and rail transportation, also effective today.

On the credit side was the lifting of the ban on domestic heating—householders now may drive out the autumnal chill by turning on gas and electric fires. But every time they do so they'll watch their equipment with frightened expectation, remembering how overtaxed power and gas systems all but collapsed last winter under the loads imposed by bitter weather.

Although stockpiles of coal at gas and electricity plants are higher than they were last year, Britons know labor conditions in the coalfields are so unsettled that periodic strikes can be expected.

They know if there is a choice to be made, factories making exports probably will get first call on available supplies. Already there has been a "load shedding" which has cut or diminished electric power throughout the country.

MUCH TO REMEMBER

Cartoonist Lee, who does the series "London Laughs" in the Evening News, chose as a subject Tuesday the harassed householder climbing the stairs to bed dragging a long list of Oct. 1 rulings.

His wife explains to a visitor: "He's going to bed early to night. Rather a lot of do's and don'ts to learn for tomorrow!" But the Londoner's reaction to the cartoon was more often a wry smile than a laugh, even when Lee tried to brighten up the list by noting that pleasant shooting begins today.

Victoria Cases Raise Polio Total To 261

The provincial health department today received reports of three new cases of poliomyelitis in the Victoria area, bringing the provincial total to 261. The latest cases raise to 11 the number recorded in the Victoria area this year.

City To Check Bond Policy On Eastern Trip

Ald. Edward Williams, chairman of the finance committee, and D. A. Macdonald, city controller, are being sent by the City Council to eastern Canada to interview bond dealers and financial institutions it was announced today by Mayor Percy George.

The city will be faced with the sale of several lots of bonds in the near future, the mayor explained, including the school building issue of $1,215,000.

Mr. Macdonald informed the council at a special meeting that on the formulation of a policy he could not advise the members for the sale of these bonds without considerably more data on the condition of the bond market and prevailing interest rates. On the advice of city bond dealers and bank officials he recommended that he and the chairman of the finance committee make personal contact with the eastern dealers.

At the same time Ald. Williams and Mr. Macdonald will endeavor to obtain information in regard to the difference in prices likely to be obtained for bonds issued by a Metropolitan Water Board, as compared with bonds issued by the city for waterworks purposes.

The main question to be decided is whether or not the council will place all the bonds on sale at once, or whether they should be issued over the five-year period of the school building plan as required.

Ald. Williams pointed out that if even a small fraction of a cent can be saved on interest rates on the large bond issues it will mean thousands of dollars to taxpayers in the future.

Stanley Tomczak was found guilty on a charge of dangerous driving on the night of Sept. 20 on Gorge Road and was fined $50 by Magistrate Henry C. Hall in city police court today. His driver's license was suspended for three months. Constables Jack Mason and Jack Perry testified they saw accused driving his vehicle in an erratic manner that caused other vehicles to halt.

City Plays Part In Big System To Catch Criminals

Victoria police plainclothes department, equipped with pictures and other information relating to three dangerous men who broke out of Kingston Penitentiary in mid-August, are on the lookout for two of them here following an unconfirmed report from Vancouver, Ulysses Lauzon and Donald (Mickey) McDonald had been seen in a beer parlor in the mainland city last night.

According to the mainland Canadian Press dispatch, the two believed to have been seen, are held responsible for the $40,000 robbery of the Royal Bank of Canada in Windsor shortly after the break. The other escaped convict is Nicholas (Nick) Minville. There is a $1,000 reward for information resulting in their arrest.

Vancouver police said they had been unable to confirm the report, but would give no further information. At frequent intervals the detective department here is in receipt of material pertaining to men and women who are "wanted" for large-scale occurrences in the continent's crime world.

The city department comes into the international picture in that Ottawa collaborates closely with the F.B.I. in Washington and vice-versa in the great network system that has been devised over the years to apprehend individuals who are implicated or believed to be in major incidents in crime—such as bank and other big-time robbers, escaped convicts, kidnappers and others involved in featured underworld happenings.

The detective office has a poster bearing pictures and descriptions, along with aliases, of the three men who broke out of the Kingston prison on the night of Aug. 17-18.

The information that has been circulated in order to speed the arrest of "wanted" persons no matter where they have gone on the continent has often produced arrests.

In the smaller fields of crime over the years persons wanted on the mainland who are spotted in Victoria from information forwarded have been arrested locally and held until the police force concerned has sent an escort to take over. Efforts of mainland forces, equipped with information from Victoria, has paid off in the apprehension of people wanted here.

Neither Esquimalt nor Oak Bay are prepared to continue on the intermunicipal transportation committee if the city has more than one representative, it was learned today.

Both municipalities have sided, in letters to the city, that they are prepared to continue with their agreements for the transportation franchise with the operating companies and prepared to send representatives to an intermunicipal committee if the city has only one representative, as do the other three.

Under a special by-law, passed last year, a special five-man committee was set up by the four municipalities to negotiate the terms of the transportation franchise. On this Victoria had two representatives and each of the other municipalities one. With the completion of the franchise its function was completed, but it has continued to act by mutual agreement.

At the recently-concluded convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, Oak Bay obtained endorsement of a resolution which would permit the four councils to empower a joint board or committee of the councils to supervise and deal with the operation of the franchises on behalf of the respective municipalities. To grant this power the provincial government must amend the municipal act.

No word has been received from Saanich as to its attitude on the matter.

228 Hours Sunshine Here In September

With warm days and cool evenings of Indian summer making this city a pleasant place to live in during the past month, a report from the Dominion Meteorological Station at Gonzales shows that Victorians basked under 228 hours of sunshine, 19 hours above the normal listing for September. Precipitation for the month was .36 inches below normal, as only .36 inches were recorded at the observatory.

Mean temperature for the month was listed at 58 degrees, one degree above September's normal. Seventy-nine degrees was reached on the first day of the month, which compared with temperatures recorded in summer. Month's minimum temperature, 46 degrees, was reported here on the 19th and 30th.

A check on the precipitation for the year shows that the rainfall is .18 inches above previous years, as a total of 15.21 inches has been listed.

Shoe Repair Costs Boosted 25 Per Cent By Victoria Shops

Shoe repairs received today by 50 Victoria shoe repairing shops will cost 25 per cent more.

The second boost in costs of shoe repairs this year was announced today by George Inrig, president of the Shoe Crafts Guild, which decided on its action Tuesday night at a meeting in the Y.M.C.A. The boosts here follows similar action in Vancouver.

Mr. Inrig said that rising costs of raw materials had been mainly responsible for making the latest boost necessary. Prices of hides has risen 58 per cent since last February, he said. Rising costs of labor were also a factor.

The previous boost in shoe repair costs had been made in February when increases of 10 to 15 per cent were effected.

In the meantime the guild will write to Ottawa suggesting that the federal government reimpose leather price controls, Mr. Inrig said. There is no shortage of leather at the present time.

Mr. Inrig estimated that costs of shoe repairs had not quite doubled since the war started.

Repairs on shoes accepted before today will be made at the old prices, Mr. Inrig said.

Mayor's Fund Given Red Cross Support

The Canadian Red Cross Society is now conducting a campaign in most Canadian cities to gather food supplies for shipment overseas but Victoria will not be a part of this campaign. Instead, the Red Cross is asking all citizens to support the Mayor's Fund.

The stand of the Red Cross in this matter has been stated by F. W. Jones, vice-president of the Red Cross division, in a letter to Mayor Percy George.

Mr. Jones writes: "The Canadian Red Cross Society considers the supplying of food to the people of Great Britain and the underfed Europeans to be the greatest of all needs at the present time. Nationally the Red Cross is taking steps to increase the supply immediately, and hopes to have all food for which it is responsible distributed to individuals who need it."

"In this district the Red Cross will make no independent move, believing this important work can be done through the Mayor's Fund, which is being administered by capable and representative committee."

"The Victoria branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society therefore asks all its friends, not only to help the tag day on Oct. 4, but to contribute generously and continuously to the Mayor's Fund for Parcels to Britain and thus help to provide supplies for Christmas and for the long winter which will follow," Mr. Jones states.

Mr. Kitchen said the average price of standard milk in eastern Canada was 16 cents. He added that he thought the production of milk on Vancouver Island and other parts of the mainland was somewhat higher than that of eastern Canada due to the dry weather in summer.

"The lack of rain affects your vegetation," he said. "This is one of the problems you local dairy farmers have to face and as a result their profits are smaller."

Mr. Kitchen said the average price of standard milk in eastern Canada was 16 cents. He added that he thought the production of milk on Vancouver Island and other parts of the mainland was somewhat higher than that of eastern Canada due to the dry weather in summer.

B.C. To Start Rebuilding Road From Duncan To Ladysmith Soon

The last major project in the reconstruction of the Island Highway from Victoria to Qualicum—the re-routing of the main island traffic artery between Duncan and Ladysmith—will be undertaken by the provincial works department this fall, Works Minister E. C. Carson said here today.

Mr. Carson said that two routes had been surveyed for the highway through Duncan. Since Mr. Carson's predecessor, Hon. Herbert Anscomb, who is now finance minister, had promised the City Council of Duncan that the re-routing would not be effected without consulting the city, Mr. Carson will present the two plans to the city in the near future. Mr. Carson, while not disclosing the two routes, said today that he had no fears that Duncan would look favorably on the government's proposals.

As soon as the route is finally approved, the government will proceed with the acquisition of property along the new right-of-way and tenders will be called this fall for the project, which will be one of the largest to be undertaken on Vancouver Island for some time.

Involved in the project will be the building of about 20 miles of road from Duncan to Ladysmith.

Also to be constructed will be new bridges over the Cowichan and Chemainus Rivers.

Mr. Carson said that the proposed new route would eliminate several of the railway crossings in the neighborhood of Chemainus.

With the reconstruction of the highway over the Malahat completed during the last few years,

Town Topics

Saanich police reported today that a one and one-half horsepower Johnson outboard motor was stolen from the garage of R. E. Harrison, 1099 Jasmine Avenue, last night.

Thirty-one motorists were fined $1 each for violation of the parking meter by-law in city police court today. Nine others paid $2.50 each for other parking infractions.

First meeting of the season of the Kipling Society was held yesterday at Prince Robert House. The main item of the program was a synopsis of Kim, which the society read through last season.

At 4 this morning Saanich Fire Department put out a fire at Gordon Community Store, 164 Burnside Road, and put out a blaze firemen report was caused by stored matches. Damage was placed at $100.

Tax collections in the city for the first nine months were $1,493,110, compared with $1,331,438 for the same period last year. Collection of arrears is down from $63,694 to $39,014.

A special City Council meeting will be held Friday morning to consider tenders for the roof covering and drainage of the Memorial Arena, Mayor Percy George announced today. The advisability of imposing business tax may also be discussed.

Victoria and District Chrysanthemum Society will meet in the City Hall Thursday night at 8. There will be a competition for three blooms, three varieties of outdoor "mums and potted plant, two blooms. M. O. Mayhew will speak on "Preparing Blooms for Show."

H. L. Smith, principal of Victoria High School, reported to city police this morning the school was broken into overnight. A pane of glass was broken in the door leading to the boiler room. J. Taylor, engineer, reported to Detective W. Richards all the keys to the different rooms were missing.

Storm Warning

The Victoria meteorological observatory today predicted storms for the west coast area of the Queen Charlotte Islands with winds of 30 to 40 miles per hour breaking by Thursday morning. Continuous rain starting this afternoon was forecast for the area.

Supplies Shrink Fast In City Meat Shops

Late morning shoppers today faced considerable "shopping around" for meat when the shortage plus the early or in a few cases, all day Wednesday closing of retail meat stores, cut down still further the city's supplies.

By noon many downtown meat stores had little left on their meat trays. A fair supply of fowl was evident and in one or two stores some pork and a little beef.

and rebuilding of the road now under way north of Nanaimo, the stretch from Duncan to Ladysmith is the last major project to completely modernize the highway from Victoria to Qualicum.

Mr. Carson said that after the Duncan-Ladysmith project had been completed improvement of the highway to Alberni would be undertaken.

While comparatively a new road, the highway between Cameron Lake and Alberni does not meet the present requirements of the government for main arteries.

Mr. Carson believes that the government will be in a favorable position to receive bids for the Duncan-Ladysmith project because several road-building jobs on the island will be completed by the time the government is ready to call tenders.

While tenders will be called this fall so that work on the project may be started immediately, Mr. Carson indicated that the reconstruction project will probably not get into full swing until next summer.

ANSWERS PROTESTS In the meantime Mr. Carson, replying to protests concerning the slowness of the Howe-Princeton project which will give the southern Okanagan Valley a direct link with the lower mainland area, said he believed the contractors were making as good progress as could be expected.

The multi-million dollar contract will be completed by the fall of 1948, Mr. Carson hopes. The highway will be hard-surfaced before traffic is admitted onto it.

Mr. Carson also said the work was progressing at a good pace on the John Hart Highway which will link Prince George with the Peace River district, providing the first western outlet for the northeast corner of the province which is being rapidly developed. Good weather has made possible the speeding of this work during the fall.

Information For War Veterans

Some important information to disabled veterans on pension matters are contained in the article "Casualty Rehabilitation," the fifth of a series of eight reprints prepared by the Department of Veterans' Affairs.

In regard to the question if a veteran pensioner takes a job does it affect the amount of his pension? the article points out that the Canadian Pension Commission does not consider the occupation one is engaged in or the amount of earnings as a result when ruling on pension entitlement or assessing the degree of disability.

"There are 100 per cent pensioners with helplessness allowance working at full-time jobs and in some cases earning more money from these jobs than able-bodied non-pensioners."

The pensioner receives his full pension while training plus the regular training allowance, the department explains in noting special benefits to enable pensioners to train for lighter work.

The training rate paid is: Single man, $60 a month, and where the allowance for dependents received on account of pension does not exceed the regular dependents' training allowance, the difference is also paid, e.g. 50 per cent pensioner, married, would receive his regular pension cheque of $50 a month—$37 for pensioner and $12.50 for his wife—and he would also receive training grant of $60 at the single rate, and an additional $7.50 for his wife; total payment monthly during training of $117.50. This represents a change in legislation which was brought into effect June, 1947.

The article goes into lengthy explanation in regard to the question if a veteran's disability breaks down and he is called into hospital for treatment—does he lose his job?

EMPLOYERS CO-OPERATE

"In most cases employers, while not under any compulsion to re-instate after hospitalization, have been very co-operative in effecting reinstatement. The Casualty Rehabilitation Section is set up to assist in presenting your problems to employers and it is recommended that you have your doctor, when in hospital, put you in touch with the C.R.O., so that he can contact your employer before you are discharged from treatment."

"Experience gained over the last two years shows very few instances where a good worker has not been reinstated, after the facts have been presented by the C.R.O. to the senior officers governing employment policy. Many veterans have availed themselves of the opportunity, while in hospital, to improve their qualifications by further study along lines associated with their previous work. An inquiry left with the nurse in charge of your ward will bring these facilities to you."

A pensioner, provided he is 50 per cent or greater, can be settled by V.L.A. on a small holding of half an acre outside the city limits.

As to whether or not the V.L.A. grant of $2,320 for settling on provincial government pre-emption land is a suitable venture for a disabled veteran, the department points out if he is interested and physically able to engage in fur farming, he can establish himself very nicely if he has the requisite knowledge, for example, of raising fur-bearing animals. The grant of $2,320 can be allocated to the erection of the necessary pens, equipment and other matters concerning the project if sanctioned by V.L.A. officials. A statement from the veteran's doctor is advised in making the application.

A disabled veteran can apply within 12 months from date of completion of continuous treatment, or 12 months from cessation of hostilities, whichever is the latest, for vocational training. Many pensioners ask if their pension affects payments under the Unemployment Insurance Act. The department answers: "No deductions have been made because of war service pensions."

Pensions can be assigned, on the written request of the pensioner, to make monthly payments on veterans' insurance and V.L.A. holdings.

When a pensioner becomes married and wonders what to do

Mature Workers Best, Survey Shows

Young, energetic workers who may appear to "have a lot on the ball," just can't compare in industry with men of 45 years or more.

You can take it from a survey of Canadian workers, results of which are quoted in the latest monthly bulletin of the Provincial Health Department.

"Far from being 'washed up' in middle age," Canada's workers over 45 years of age are the best bet of all to industry," the department said.

"Actually, surveys indicate that the older worker is less likely to be addicted to unnecessary absenteeism and pride in his work and is far less prone to accident than the younger man at the same type of job. And, too, he has the advantage of experience and mature judgment."

"In view of estimates that Canada will have more than 5,000,000 people over 45 years old by 1971, the results of the survey are most reassuring."

PLAZA THEATRE
A model midjet racer that runs, sputters and back-fires is one of the key props used in the new Abbott and Costello comedy, "Buck Privates Come Home," now at the Plaza Theatre. In the story, it is a replica of the midjet racing automobile that Tom Brown, featured in the film, had invented and is having the comedy team finance.

Included in the well-known featured cast are Joan Fulton, Nat Pendleton, Donald MacBride and Beverly Simmons.

DOMINION THEATRE
Talk about a busman's holiday! In "The Millerson Case," Columbia's "Crime Doctor" picture now at the Dominion Theatre, Doctor Ordway, famous psychiatrist-criminologist, goes on a much-needed vacation. But, the moment he arrives at his destination, the good doctor, played by Warner Baxter, finds himself involved in a typhoid epidemic and a rash of murder!

CAPITOL THEATRE
When Barbara Bel Geddes was advised to give up her acting aspirations because she had no talent, her father, Norman Bel Geddes, noted scenic designer, encouraged her to proceed. She started with a walk-on part with Ethel Barrymore in a summer play; later won the New York Drama Critics Award for her performance in "Deep Are the Roots." She starts her screen career co-starring with Henry Fonda, Vincent Price and Ann Dvorak in the Hakim-Litvak production, "The Long Night," now being shown at the Capitol Theatre.

ATLAS THEATRE
M-G-M's triumphant filmization of Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings' Pulitzer Prize novel, "The Yearling," comes to the Atlas screen today to take its place with the greatest motion pictures ever made.

Not since the memory of such artistic triumphs as "The Birth of a Nation," "Captains Courageous" and "How Green Was My Valley" has there been brought to the medium of the cameras a story so beautifully enacted or so fraught with emotion as this stirring tale of a frontier family who fight for survival against the powerful forces of nature and the elements.

All the wizardry of Hollywood at its greatest has been employed to bring to life in living technicolor the deeply stirring and emotionally penetrating narrative of the Baxter family—Penny, Ma and little Jody—of the unremitting hardships they undergo to squeeze the bare necessities of life out of the reluctant soil.

YORK THEATRE
By appearing in the role of the famous novelist, George Sand in Columbia's "A Song to Remember," currently playing at the York Theatre, Merle Oberon takes her place among some well-remembered, currently playing at also appeared in pants. They were Sarah Bernhardt and Eva Le Gallienne in "L'Aiglon" and Marlene Dietrich in the film, "The Blue Angel," to name a few.

ROYAL THEATRE
Mary Hatcher, who plays the title role in Paramount's 40-star musical comedy, "Variety Girl," now at the Royal Theatre, was given both a screen and a stage contract from the same film test. Paramount signed and, later, Theatre Guild executives saw the test and borrowed her for the lead for Broadway's long-run musical "Oklahoma." In "Variety Girl," Miss Hatcher has a record breaking number of stars for her supporting cast.

OAK BAY THEATRE
Ronald Colman and Marlene Dietrich head the cast of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's eye-filling new spectacle, the technicolor film "Kismet," which is at the Oak Bay Theatre. Both are at their best in this celebrated story, Colman as the beggar-magician Hafiz and Miss Dietrich as Jamilla, queen of the dancing girls.

But M-G-M has not stopped with these two headliners. Splendid support is offered by James Craig and Joy Ann Page, a young newcomer.

RIO THEATRE

The paradox of an actress who is essentially and definitely feminine yet knows what she wants and gets it, was etched clear as crystal in the making of "Barbary Coast," the exciting Samuel Goldwyn production currently at the Rio Theatre.

That actress is Miriam Hopkins, whose role in the picture is that of "the only white woman in San Francisco" during the old wild rough gold boom days of 1852.

Let's watch her analyze and do a scene under the painstaking, careful direction of Howard Hawks, a master of screen movement.

BUILDING SUPPLIES

HOME BUILDERS' BARGAINS
LUMBER

In order to give the consumer the advantage of being able to purchase at the lowest possible price we have made arrangements to deliver truck loads of lumber direct from our sawmills to customers' jobs and eliminate all yard handling costs.
These truck loads will contain either shipping common, clear, dressed, or kiln-dried lumber. 2x4 and 2x6. This lumber is all mill and the regular price is $35 per thousand feet. If you are in the position to take delivery of truck load quantity of 1,000 or $500 feet the price is $29 per thousand and a saving of roughly 20%.
These materials are excellent for framing, framing, siding, etc. We will be pleased to show you these goods at our yard.

New Letters Patent Widen Powers Of Governor-General In Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King today announced new letters patent governing the office and appointment of the Governor-General of Canada, consolidating former documents and widening the powers of the King's representative in Canada without direct consultation with His Majesty.

The new letters patent became effective today and make it legally possible for the Governor-General, on the advice of Canadian ministers, to exercise any of the powers and authorities of the Crown in respect to Canada without the necessity of submission being made to the King. These new powers include among others, royal full powers for the signing of treaties, ratification of treaties and the issuance of letters of credence for ambassadors.

Lengthy Cabinet Session Held In Ottawa; 20 Topics Come Up

OTTAWA (CP)—Sitting morning and afternoon, the cabinet was in session for 4½ hours Tuesday, dealing with a lengthy agenda of more than 20 items.

While no announcements were made by Prime Minister King after the meeting, it is understood there was some discussion regarding the United Nations and Canada's policy on several questions which will be coming up in New York. The ministers received the word from New York that Canada had been elected a member of the Security Council, as expected.

COUNCIL D'LEGATE
Within the next few weeks it is likely the government will choose its permanent representative on the Security Council and Dana Wilgress, Canadian Minister to Switzerland and former Ambassador to the Soviet Union, is the likeliest choice, according to sources here.

But it is known that Mr. Wilgress after years of wandering on diplomatic assignments, is anxious to remain comparatively quiet in Switzerland for a while and it may not be possible to prevail on him to take this heavy post.

Ottawa sources indicate that Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton is also still very much in the running. One official said he felt the general could handle his present duties on the Atomic Energy Commission as well as the Security Council job.

But on major issues in the Security Council, Mr. St. Laurent himself, if he remains Minister of External Affairs, would probably go to New York to represent Canada on the council as do the Foreign Ministers of Britain, France and the United States when circumstances warrant.

Film Council News

The monthly meeting of the Greater Victoria Film Council will be held in the National Film Board Screening Room, 1255 Langley Street, Thursday at 8.

The Victoria Public Library announces that the following films are available: "Brotherhood of Man," hailed by many critics as the best film to date dealing with tolerance; "Your Children's Ears," diagrams of parts of an ear are used in this film to explain how we hear and how hearing may be damaged as the result of illness or obstructions in the outer canal; "Jasper Park," a 10-minute color film portraying the scenic beauty of one of Canada's most famous national parks; "Fashions by Canada," illustrating fashions produced by Canadian designers, and giving the history of the textile industry in Canada; "Painting and Decorating," describing the work and opportunities in the field of interior decorating.

Oak Bay residents are invited to call the chief's office, G 3321, if, at any time they wish information, such as regulations on oil burners or permission to have rubbish fires.

Accident Toll Climbs In B.C.

Accidents, which claim more British Columbia lives than any diseases but those of the heart and arteries and cancer, took a markedly increased toll during the first seven months of this year, according to a monthly report of the provincial division of vital statistics.

The January to July inclusive accident toll in this province has been 428, compared with the 1946 total for the corresponding period of 371.

Almost one-quarter of the seven-month accident toll has been on the highways where 102 persons met their deaths. During the same period of 1946, 75 persons had died in traffic accidents. Drawings came next, accounting for 62 of the deaths. The corresponding 1946 total was 50 drawings.

Deaths from heart diseases have totaled 1,966 compared with 1,782 during the corresponding seven-month period of 1946. During the January to July period this year 824 persons died of cancer, an increase from 810 during the corresponding 1946 total.

Junior Chamber Of Commerce Marks 21st Birthday At Annual Meeting

Victoria's Junior Chamber of Commerce, second oldest of such groups in the Dominion, became of age Tuesday night at its 21st annual meeting held in the Hotel Douglas. The meeting also marked the conclusion of the first year the group has operated independently of the senior Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting was addressed by Mayor Percy E. George, who warned that certain foreign ideologies were attempting to creep into the country and overthrow the present way of life. Pointing to Russia, the mayor said: "The young men of our country must treat seriously the attitude of this veto nation."

"You owe it to your city and your country to go about your business as good Canadian citizens and show democracy is worth continuing and fighting for," he told the meeting.

Mayor George stressed that the Junior Chamber of Commerce should work hard to maintain the prestige which it holds in this country. He stated the senior and junior chambers of this city were regarded by the government bodies as more important than any service club.

The mayor said he was pleased to see the group was now standing on its own feet and gave his assurance the City Council would back up any request within reason that the group might make.

Following his address, the mayor installed Brent Murdock as president of the group and Percy Frampton as vice-president.

In a brief address by Mr. Murdock, it was pointed out that while the Junior Chamber of Commerce was now entirely separate from the senior body, the new executive would not hesitate in asking advice from the senior members.

Retiring president Fred Norris noted the past year had been a busy one. He reviewed major undertakings of the group such as the B.C. Products Fair, the Clean-up, Paint-up Campaign, the formation of the Greater Victoria Film Council, two "Get Out and Vote" campaigns and the May 24 fireworks display.

Mr. Norris presented the new president with a new gavel.

FOSTER RETIRES

Mr. Norris announced to the meeting that Norman Foster, secretary of the Junior Chamber for the past 11 years, had been forced to tender his resignation due to the pressure of other activities. Mr. Norris described Mr. Foster as the "closest friend

Sentence Reduced By Appeal Court

Reduction of a sentence from three months' hard labor to 11 days was the decision of the Appeal Court which yesterday heard the appeal of Theodore Ainsley, soldier, convicted of stealing a coat and contents from Reginald Lachine, proprietor of a local coffee shop. The appeal against conviction was dismissed.

Robert D. Harvey, counsel for the appellant, in his argument against the conviction, contended that Ainsley had mistaken the stolen coat for his own in the confusion that issued when a small fire broke out in the hotel above the coffee shop. He also claimed that Magistrate H. C. Hall had erred in assuming the accused had taken money from the coat as no evidence had been given at the trial to prove that the packet had contained money.

In his appeal from sentence, Mr. Harvey pointed out that the appellant was a member of the permanent army and had an excellent combat record overseas.

According to police, Brown, hearing of an alleged illicit love affair between his wife and William Topach, a hired man, shot both his wife and Topach. It is believed the shooting took place Tuesday night.

Following the shooting of the pair Brown then took his own life, police said. No other details of the shooting were available.

Ari metal course at Victoria High School commences on Friday, Oct. 3.

Victoria Resident Made Film Director

A former area official of the British Film Council, Archibald D. Ross, who has resided in Victoria for the past 10 months, has been appointed director of the Vancouver Film Council.

His experience in the United Kingdom will stand him in good stead to undertake the new position. Mr. Ross was area officer for Yorkshire and has produced many films dealing with the cultural and industrial activities of the people of that area. These films have had wide distribution through the British Foreign Office.

During the war, he served as an air raid warden and Red Cross worker in London. He was wounded twice. He came to Victoria last December to visit his mother, Mrs. Donald H. Seymour.

2 Murders, Suicide

EDMONTON (CP)—Royal Canadian Mounted Police here reported today a double murder and suicide on the farm of Sudley Brown of Lloydminster, Sask., 141 miles east of Edmonton.

According to police, Brown, hearing of an alleged illicit love affair between his wife and William Topach, a hired man, shot both his wife and Topach. It is believed the shooting took place Tuesday night.

Following the shooting of the pair Brown then took his own life, police said. No other details of the shooting were available.

3rd Successive Gain Since July

NEW YORK (AP)—For the first time since late July, the stock market average today recorded its third successive advance with volume topping the 1,000,000-share level for the second session in two months.

Dealings of 600,000 shares were registered by midday as oils, steels and assorted industrials added fractions to a point or so. Thereafter the pace slowed at intervals when profit realizing trimmed extreme gains. While plus signs predominated near the close, declines were plentiful.

Canadian issues were steady or strong generally at noon to day. Distillers Seagrams gained ¼ while Canadian Pacific and Hiram Walker each added ½.

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:

30 Industrials 178.09, up 0.60
20 rails 48.59, up 0.16
15 utilities 55.36, up 0.10
65 stocks 63.84, up 0.21
Total shares 1,150,000

Papers Top Mark With Mines Active

MONTREAL (CP)—Papers were extremely active up to the final hour on the Stock Exchange and Curb Market here today and this group which registered an index gain of 13.62 points yesterday showed signs of repeating that performance again today. Most other industrial groups were ahead also. Mines were fairly active and mixed.

Gains in papers ranged from an eighth to a point. In beverages National Breweries went ahead ¼ and Walker ¼, while International Nickel advanced ¼ in metals. In oils, International Petroleum added ½.

Montreal averages:

20 Industrials 119.90, up 0.90

Newsprints, Liquors Most Active

Mines, Oils Slip In Slow Trading

TORONTO (CP)—Newsprints and liquors, both active and ahead substantially, continued to spark the industrials' upward trend on the Toronto Stock Exchange today while a few of the better gold and base metals stocks added small gains.

Western oils were quiet as were most other groups in the industrial lists.

Four issues in the newsprints posted new highs for the year and overall gains ranged from fractions to more than three points.

Toronto index: 20 Industrials 169.55, up 0.81
20 golds 117.12, up 1.52
10 base metals 70.52, up 0.16
15 western oils 25.42, off 0.05
Total sales 1,015,000
